TWO-YEAR TERM FOR THE COUNCIL

ASK LEGISLATURE TO AMEND THE ACT

Important Forward Step Decided on at Last Evening's Meeting

Ald. Bannerman, chairman of the streets committee of the city council, left last night for Salmon Arm as a delegate to the convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities, which opens there tomorrow. Prior to his departure the council at the special meeting held last evening adopted a memorandum which had been prepared by the city solicitor, F. A. McDiarmid, and which will be presented to the convention by Ald. Bannerman.

At the suggestion of Ald. Mable, whose argument was endorsed by the mayor, another clause was added to the report as originally drawn, urging that legislation be secured to provide for continuity in office of the elected representatives of the city—one-half of the aldermen to retire at the first year of the operation of the new law, thereafter after all aldermen and the mayor to be elected for a two-year term. The memorandum as finally approved by the council read as follows:

1. There should be a change in the local improvement clauses of the Act in the full form and substance of the act so as to provide an easier, more accurate and more elastic plan of procedure. The present procedure has received such strict interpretation from the courts that it is almost impossible even for the most competent and careful counsel and solicitors to draw by-laws to which objection could not be taken, and which we believe will assuage upon the people the cost of the improvements which are made for the benefit of the people.

2. Failing a new system altogether there should be some plan worked out whereby Section 50, Subsection 148, would be consolidated with Section 256, so as to make the one system run through both. The city would point out the inconsistency between Section 148 and Section 256 as to procedure. Subsection 22 of Section 256 gives a comparatively inexpensive and convenient method of dealing with local improvements, when the council takes the initiative in the work. It directs the advertising in the newspapers for fifteen days to be sufficient, whereas Section 50, Subsection 148 gives an expensive, cumbersome and unpracticable system when the ratepayers make the initiative and petition the Council. The trouble with Subsection 148 applies mainly in the fact that there is no set time at which we are to ascertain who are the actual owners or occupants of the premises. The assessment is made up in February. Suppose a petition comes in in November. It is not safe to rely upon the assessment roll as to who the owners or occupants are. The wording is not sufficient to direct us to abide by the assessment roll. We are striving to ascertain who are the owners and occupants of the premises, the owners from the Land Registry Office and the occupants from actual enquiry upon the ground. These owners and occupants we must notify by registered letter at our peril of finding the right owners. Say to-day search is made at the Registry office; the names of the owners are ascertained and it takes a week after that to find out who the occupants are. It is almost safe to assume in Victoria at the present time that in that week some of the properties which have been searched will have changed hands, and so it may go on forever, until a person is prepared to walk out of the Registry office and post the proper notices simultaneously.

Why could not the procedure in Section 256 be adopted instead of the procedure outlined in Subsection 148, or again, if there is any reason for the procedure being different? The city cannot see why the assessed owners should not be taken or the registered owners as of the date of the petition, or as of the date of the reception of the petition, and then again, why should occupants be notified? The occupants do not pay. It is the property owners that pay and no leaseholder under Section 256 is entitled to have any say in the matter unless his lease is for not less than 25 years.

These two sections should be brought together and one procedure adopted for both.

3. There should be a provision added to the local improvement clauses of the act which should be like the Ontario provisions, and would give us the authority once in each year, or perhaps oftener, whenever we want to sell debentures, of passing a consolidating by-law, consolidating into one by-law and one series of assessment, all the by-laws of the year. The advantage of this would be that, instead of the purchaser buying a lot of little debentures, coming due probably at different times and being for odd amounts, in a city like ours, the purchaser would buy a large block of debentures which our experience has been, and in fact the experience of every city has been, that the larger the block of debentures the easier they are to sell and the better prices that are received.

WOULD NOT HEAR MR. HELLIWELL

VANCOUVER EXPERT DID NOT EXPLAIN

His Interim Report Referred to Finance Committee by the City Council

After having been brought over from Vancouver to attend a special meeting of the city council, the board last evening refused to hear John F. Helliwell, expert accountant, in explanation of his interim report as to the result of his investigations into the book-keeping methods at the city hall.

Indeed, it was only by the narrowest margin that the whole report of the expert was not shelved by referring the same to the heads of the various departments, this suggestion being advanced at one stage of the proceedings by Ald. Raymond, whose views plainly met with the approval of a majority of the aldermen present. It was finally decided that the report of the expert should be referred to the finance committee, and the same will be discussed at another meeting called by that committee for Tuesday evening of next week, at which the heads of the various departments, who were in attendance last evening, will be present.

In opening the matter for discussion Mayor Morley asked if all the aldermen had received copies of the report, and also if they had read the same carefully.

Ald. Raymond said he for one had read it, and he had no hesitation in saying that after having done so he did not understand it. It was not an accountant, and even if Mr. Helliwell were to be heard he felt that he might not understand it after that gentleman had spoken. Personally he was of the opinion that the proper way for the board to deal with the report was to refer the same to the officials of the various departments so that they could go into the matter with Mr. Helliwell, if they wished, and make some recommendations to the council if they so desired.

The mayor was of the opinion that the finance committee should have been left to deal with the report. It was the finance committee which had initiated the investigation which had been undertaken by Mr. Helliwell, and that committee should have been left to deal with it to its final stages. The committee could confer with the heads of the departments if they so desired and report back to the council. He reminded the members present, however, that the request for a special meeting of the council had come from the board.

Ald. Mable was of the same opinion as Ald. Raymond. The report should be referred to the finance committee and the various officials for their consideration. The heads of the various departments should be able to say if the recommendations of Mr. Helliwell were any good.

The mayor thought it a somewhat unique proceeding to call upon the heads of the various departments to pass judgment upon an expert criticism of the methods they were following. This would not be fair either to themselves or to Mr. Helliwell. The latter was not passing any opinion on the city officials themselves, but as to the condition of the city's books. It would be a very peculiar proceeding to make an appeal to the officials at this stage.

Ald. Fishop, while not saying that he agreed with the recommendations of Mr. Helliwell, was favorable to the board hearing the Vancouver expert at once.

Ald. Mable was opposed to hearing Mr. Helliwell just then. He confessed that he would be unable to meet arguments advanced by Mr. Helliwell, and for that reason he could not see the advantage of allowing that gentleman to start an explanation of the details of his report.

Ald. McKewen said he understood that the object of Mr. Helliwell's visit was to explain some changes he wanted made in respect to the collection of water rates and in book-keeping methods. If this was correct he thought the expert should be given an opportunity to speak.

Ald. Fullerton, well, in order to bring this matter to a head I move that we do not entertain Mr. Helliwell's recommendation in respect to a change in the method of collection of water rates.

This motion was not seconded.

The Mayor—Why not hear Mr. Helliwell as to what systems are in vogue in other cities in regard to the collection of water rates and the experience of those cities? We should not condemn his suggestions without a hearing.

Ald. Fullerton—My mind is made up on that point. The present system is good enough for me. I would not change my opinion one iota if Mr. Helliwell is asked to make an explanation.

DOMINION WINS IN WATER RIGHTS APPEAL

Province Has No Jurisdiction in British Columbia Railway Belt

(Special to the Times)

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The department of Justice has been notified by cable that the appeal of the Burrard Power Company has been dismissed by the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

This appeal affects the right of jurisdiction over water rights in the railway belt in British Columbia, and therefore the provincial government was interested in it. The company disputed the right of the Dominion government to make regulations affecting water powers in the twenty-mile belt on each side of the C. P. P. main line, contending that the provincial water act governed. This contention was not entertained by the trial judge, and the decision has now been upheld by the Privy Council. This finally decides the Dominion's right to deal not only with the timber, minerals, water and other resources in the belt.

TRANSVAAL CADETS WIN.

London, Nov. 9.—Results in competition for Earl Roberts' imperial trophy for cadets have been published. The first place is won by Transvaal with 492 points. Canadians stood seventh with 436, and Prince Edward Island ninth with 329.

SUFFOCATED BY GAS.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Joseph Naylor, Jersey Avenue, who was overcome by coal gas at his home and was found in an unconscious condition last night, died at the hospital this morning.

MAY PROCEED ON FORT STREET

JUDGMENT RENDERED IN FRIENDLY SUIT

Mr. Justice Gregory Decides That City May Take Up Widening Project

The city may proceed at once with the project for the widening of Fort street on the lines of the scheme passed by the council in the early part of the year, but held up from time to time owing to the cropping up of legal difficulties of one sort or another.

A decision to this effect was handed down yesterday in the Supreme Court by Mr. Justice Gregory in the friendly suit which had been commenced by a number of the property owners, who sought an order to compel the corporation of Victoria to proceed with the undertaking. The main difficulty now being disposed of, nothing remains but to take the work in hand and push it to completion with all speed.

It will be recalled that about a couple of months ago, at a time when the owners on the thoroughfare mentioned believed that all difficulties had been overcome, the city solicitor made the discovery that owing to the cement sidewalks on either side having been laid down under a special local improvement by-law, the ownership of the said sidewalks was vested in the property owners and to a lesser extent in the debenture holders.

On the city barrister, W. J. Taylor, being consulted he agreed with Mr. McDiarmid, the city solicitor, that it would be dangerous to proceed with the work and tear up the sidewalks under the circumstances, and a conference was held with the legal representatives of the property owners with the idea of solving the difficulty in some way. It was decided that a friendly suit should be instituted by the owners, who would ask for a mandamus compelling the city to proceed with the work under the terms of the by-law and do the work of widening. Mr. Justice Gregory yesterday afternoon granted the application.

The city solicitor at last evening's special meeting of the council made an announcement to this effect and urged the board to come to an immediate decision as to what the city should take possession of the property and the date for the commencement of the work of widening. This would be necessary in order to properly arrange the payments of compensation.

After but brief discussion the matter was left in the hands of the city engineer and city assessor to prepare a report which shall be considered at the next meeting of the streets committee.

CANADA IN CHARGE AT ESQUIMALT

FORMAL TRANSFER OF THE NAVAL YARD

Historic Scene Enacted at Noon To-day—Exchange of Flags

Beneath a grey sky, darkened by a torrential downpour of rain, and to the accompaniment of bugle blasts ringing out the salute, the Union Jack, representing the jurisdiction of the British admiralty over the naval base at Esquimalt, was at noon to-day hauled down from the flagstaff in the dockyard and a similar flag, handed over for the purpose by the representatives of the government of the Dominion of Canada, was raised to the peak instead. Manually, the guard of honor, made up of two detachments, each of 30 bluejackets, drawn from the crews of the Shearwater and the Rainbow, stood at the "present."

This little ceremony, though devoid of spectacular features and witnessed by hardly anyone save those participating in the formalities, nevertheless is of profound historic interest, for with it there passes from the control of the government of Great Britain every vestige of direct authority over the affairs of the naval base at Esquimalt.

Owing to the extremely disagreeable weather it was deemed advisable to have the guard of honor drawn up within doors, and one of the smaller drill sheds was utilized. The chief actors in the scene, which must ever remain memorable in the annals of Canada, took positions at the main entrance in sight of the flag staff. These were George J. Desbarats, deputy minister of naval affairs; Admiral Kingsmill, director of the naval service of Canada; Commander Vivian, of H. M. S. Shearwater; Commander Stewart, of the Rainbow, with their staffs, and George Phillips, now chief stores officer at the navy yard.

There was no exchange of papers nor any speeches. When all was in readiness and when the hands of the clock pointed to a few minutes past the hour of twelve, at a signal from Commander Vivian, two blue jackets who were stationed at the foot of the flag-staff, about 100 yards away, commenced to haul down the Union Jack, flapping in the fitful breeze which blew fresh from the harbor mouth. Simultaneously there rang out the salute, the guard of honor presented arms and the representatives of both governments stationed in the doorway stood at attention.

When the flag which had represented the authority of the British government had reached the ground, a new flag, but still the Union Jack—eloquent testimony of the unity of Empire—was raised to the peak with similar attendant ceremony.

The formal transfer between the two governments had been made. The officers and Mr. Desbarats stood talking together for a few minutes, and then, at a sharp command from the company officer, the guard of honor, first the detachment from the Rainbow, and at their heels the detachments from the Shearwater, filed out of the shed on their return to their ships.

The principals in the ceremony then posed for the photographers who were present, and the proceedings terminated.

Mr. Desbarats explained to the Times that the necessary papers in the matter had been exchanged between Ottawa and London.

SELKIRK'S PROTEST.

Selkirk, Man., Nov. 9.—On motion of Dr. O. I. Grain, M. P., health officer for Selkirk, who drew a lurid picture of the dangers of the situation, the Selkirk board of trade has adopted a lengthy resolution deploring the risk to the people of the lower Red River valley from the uncontrolled dumping of Winnipeg sewage, and protesting against such disposal of sewage in Red River without passing through septic tanks. Besides the danger to public health, the resolution points out the risk to $9,000,000 young white fish annually discharged from the hatchery at Selkirk. Both the provincial and Dominion governments will be approached for relief.

W. O'BRIEN'S VIEWS.

(Special to the Times.)

Dublin, Nov. 9.—Wm. O'Brien in an interview, said that T. P. O'Connor having been on Canadian ground and being above all things a faithful English Liberal, has hitherto attacked consistently his instructions from the Liberal whip. But O'Connor does not greatly count and will either repudiate himself or be repudiated at the word of command.

NARROW ESCAPES IN PORTLAND FIRE

Women Caught in Burning Building Are Rescued by Firemen

(Times Leased Wire.)

Portland, Ore., Nov. 9.—Several narrow escapes from death are recorded as a result of a fire early to-day which partially burned the Milner block, at Park and Morrison streets. The loss was estimated at approximately $25,000. The lower floors of the structure which housed several stores was badly burned though little damage was done to the rooming houses on the upper floors.

Scores of persons were sleeping in the building when Serat, Kellard discovered the fire and turned in an alarm. He then rushed into the building and succeeded in awakening most of the occupants.

Several women were caught inside the building by flames that prevented their escape by the stairways. They were carried down the fire escapes by firemen.

Dick Barter, a crippled ex-police-man, was overcome by smoke in his room on the fifth floor. He was rescued by Jack Lennox, a fireman, who carried the unconscious man down the fire escape to safety.

The building is owned by Messrs. Jos. Simon.

TEMPORARY ASYLUM

Brandon, Nov. 9.—Provincial government employees have commenced the work of erecting temporary buildings near the site of the burned asylum for the accommodation of patients and guards. Provision is being made to enable patients to exercise near the winter fair building in the centre of the city where they are now housed.

IMPRISONED BY EXPLOSION

OVER FIFTY MINERS ENTOMBED IN TUNNELS

Fourteen Men Are Rescued But Fate of Comrades is Not Known

(Times Leased Wire.)

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 9.—Nine coal miners entombed in the Victor American Fuel Company's mine at Delaguna, near the scene of the recent Starkville disaster, were rescued alive to-day.

Over fifty men are still entombed and their fate is unknown. Rescuers are working frantically to reach the inner tunnels of the mine. The men were shut off from the exits by an explosion yesterday afternoon.

The rescued men were all in good condition, having suffered no hardships beyond hunger.

Mine officials assert that only 100 men were in the mine at the time of the explosion, the other workmen usually employed being at the pits. Forty-two of those in the mine found their way out after the explosion through a tunnel connecting with a neighboring mine. Miners say that more than 150 men were in the mine at the time and it is believed that 100 is nearer the number entombed than that given by the mine owners.

The cause of the explosion is as yet unknown.

Five More Men Rescued.

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 9.—(Later.)—Five more miners were taken from the Victor American Fuel Company's mine shortly before noon to-day, making 14 rescued alive. The men were brought to the surface in a semi-unconscious condition, but soon were revived. It was announced that all would recover.

Despite precautions of the mine officials the crowd that all day had surrounded the mine was restrained with difficulty. The condition of the second group of men rescued has led to the belief that unless the other entombed are rescued speedily there will be many fatalities.

Washington Disaster.

Black Diamond, Wash., Nov. 9.—All hope of rescuing the fifteen miners entombed in the lower slope of the Lawrence coal mine here, following last Sunday's explosion, has been abandoned. The men have undoubtedly perished.

The last hope that the miners caught in the bottom of the mine slope might still be alive was dissipated when an exploring party which worked through the third level found the workings from the third level to the bottom galleries filled with a deadly afterdamp.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE IN THE UNITED STATES

Will Have Substantial Working Majority in Next Congress—Chairman of Republican Committee Blames Party Strife for Defeat

(Times Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Not only will the Democrats control the sixty-second congress, but they will have a substantial working majority, according to Congressman Loudengeler, vice-chairman of the Republican congressional committee. He said that they would organize the House and elect their own speaker, probably Champ Clark.

The crop of "lame ducks" is the greatest in the recent history of congress. According to the officials at Republican congressional headquarters there will be no less than 85 new faces, both Democratic and Republican, in the sixty-second congress.

Conspicuous among the men defeated is W. W. Cooke, former President Roosevelt's most intimate friend, and the representative from Roosevelt's own district. In all of Greater New York, only one Republican congressman was elected, Calder from the sixth district in Brooklyn.

Herbert Parson, former chairman of the Republican county committee of New York, and W. S. Bennett, whose nomination for governor by the Republicans was prevented by Colonel Roosevelt, are among the Manhattan congressmen who fell by the wayside.

Uphate, Chas. M. Millington, Vice-president Sherman's closest political associate, was defeated in the 27th district by Charles A. Talcott. S. Passett and D. S. Alexander also were defeated, while the result in Congressman Hamilton Fish's district was still in doubt at a late hour.

Sereno E. Payne, co-author of the tariff bill, has his plurality materially reduced, but won out.

The Democrats gain two congressmen in Maryland, at least two in Massachusetts, one in Virginia and one in North Carolina.

In Ohio the Democrats' claim to have captured the entire congressional delegation with the exception of Nicholas Longworth in the first district.

In Kentucky Caleb Powers, twice tried for the murder of Governor Gooch, was the only Republican successful. Illinois, the Republican headquarters admit, spelled disaster to the party, as did Kansas.

Victor Berger, probably the best known Socialist in the United States, will have the honor of being the first Socialist chosen to congress, unless the returns should run badly against him.

According to returns available the Republicans will suffer the loss of 44 votes in the next congress. The present house has 217 Republicans and 174 Democrats. The sixty-second congress according to to-day's figures, will be made up as follows:

Democrats, 211; Republicans, 179; Socialist, 1.

Statements on Results.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Blaming the rout of the Republican party to bitterness in its own organization, but praying for success in 1912, Wm. B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee, issued the following statement to-day on the result of the election:

"When it is considered, as now seems to be the fact, that barely two-thirds of the Republican vote in the middle western states came to the polls and the further fact that factional differences had aroused an unusual degree of bitterness among the Republicans, the result of the election is not at all surprising.

"Every effort to promote harmony was made by the congressional committee, in many instances with success. The revision of the tariff has always proved a disturbing element in American politics, and this year has been no exception."

James T. Lloyd, chairman of the National Democrat congressional committee, issued the following statement of the Democratic victory:

"Present indications are that the congress will be Democratic by about 25 majority. The returns indicate that our pre-election estimates were about correct.

"The causes which have led to the results are well known. It is a curious rebuke to the Republican party for its failure to reduce the tariff as the party had promised. The high cost of protected manufactured articles, which has resulted in greatly increasing the cost of living, has had very much to do in producing this result. There is a general dissatisfaction with present existing conditions, and with the present administration. This led to its repudiation so far as it could be done at the polls. The Democratic party has won a victory because the only hope of the people was in its supremacy. The Republican party has shown by its course that it will not enact legislation in the interest of the masses where such legislation would be detrimental to the classes.

Dix Elected in New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—Practically complete returns to-day give the Democrats a majority of 25 in the legislature, ensuring a Democratic successor to Senator Depeew.

The Democrats gained ten congressmen in the state.

John A. Dix, Democrat candidate for governor, was elected over Henry L. Stimson, Republican, by a plurality of 62,487, according to revised figures to-day. The pluralities of the entire Democratic ticket average 50,000.

Cannon Re-elected.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 9.—Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was re-elected to congress from the Eighteenth, Illinois congressional district by a slightly reduced plurality.

Puget Sound Cities.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—The Puget Sound went Republican by overwhelming numbers in the elections. Congressman Will E. Humphrey of the first district, is returned to Congress over Judge W. W. Black by a plurality of 3,000. In King county alone Humphrey won by a 2,500 plurality in the face of the stiff fight put up against him. Humphrey is a "stand-patter" and pronounced type.

Here is the winning ticket:

Judges of the Supreme court—Fon E. Morris; Mack F. Goss; six years, Geo. E. Morris; six years, Frank H. Rudkin; six years, Emmett N. Parker; six years, Mark A. Fullerton.

State senators—Thirtieth district, B. A. Bowen; 31st, Ralph D. Nichols; 32nd, Daniel Landon; 33rd, Piny L. Allen; 34th, George U. Piper; 35th, Josiah Collins; 36th, John A. Whalley; 37th, Frank U. Jackson.

State representatives—Fortieth district, F. H. Tonkin, Fred J. Mess Howard D. Taylor; 41st, Charles H. Ennis, George E. Webster; 42nd, W. T. Christensen, Edgar J. Wright; 43rd, William Wray, Victor Sedwick; 44th, H. E. Kennedy, J. A. Ghent; 45th, Somers Hayes Smith, Francis Patrick Goss; 46th, Oscar M. Haroldson, Fred W. Hastings; 47th, H. D. Buchanan, H. E. Foster.

County auditor, Otto A. Case. County engineer, James R. Morrison. County superintendent, A. S. Burrows.

County assessor, Albert E. Paulsh. County clerk, D. K. Siskells. County treasurer, Will H. Hanna. County sheriff, Robert T. Hodge. County coroner, James C. Snyder. Prosecuting attorney, John F. Murphy.

County commissioners, first district, David McKenzie; second, M. L. Hampton.

Workmaster, George W. Williams. The Democrats did not make the gains in the legislature that the Republicans had conceded they would make, and the Republican majority of a joint ballot will be more than 100 insuring the election of Miles Poindexter as U. S. senator.

A woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution seems to have been carried by a majority of 2 to 1, this ratio being maintained in Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and various eastern and western Washington counties.

An unexpected result of the election was the success of the "Dry" factor in the local option elections in all parts of the state. The saloons were voted to death in Everett and Bell-Ingham cities of more than 20,000 inhabitants, and in many other important municipalities.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 9.—Stanton Warburton, Republican, has been elected to congress from the 2nd district over Maurice Langhorne, Democrat, by a safe majority, according to incomplete returns to-day. The Republicans carried every office in the county, and all except one representative to the state legislature.

Warburton made his fight on a progressive platform.

MAYOR UNSEATED.

(Special to the Times.)

Perrh, Ont., Nov. 9.—Dr. J. S. McCallum, mayor of Smith's Falls, has been declared disqualified and unseated by a decision of the county judge, Dr. McCallum in 1909 purchased from M. Ryan, of Smith's Falls 400 bags of cement which he proposed to use in the construction of a business block. Plans for building fell through last June and Dr. McCallum as head of the corporation executed an agreement with a Belleville firm for the construction of a granite walk and subsequently offered the cement to the contractor who accepted it. This it was held, was a violation of the municipal act. Dr. McCallum was ordered to pay all costs.

HOME RULE IN OLD COUNTRY

PROPOSED CONVENTION TO DISCUSS SCHEME

Problem of House of Lords May Be Included in Programme

London, Nov. 9.—So far has the proposal for the federation of the United Kingdom progressed that public attention is now being invited to consider a convention of both Liberals and Conservatives to deal with the House of Lords problem and the allied question of Home Rule federation.

It is pointed out in the Times and other leading journals that the convention should include a fair admixture of Liberal representatives as well as of those who regard their own particular needs should have full voice at the proposed convention.

A writer in the Times declares: "On the one hand it is maintained that a great deal has changed since the last quarter of a century; that many things are now viewed in a new light and in a different perspective; and that, independently altogether of the demands of the Irish members, the need of efficient government requires that the Imperial parliament at Westminster should be relieved of some of its present functions. The party holding these views claims that in Home Rule a remedy would be found for many of our present difficulties, and that the greater objection to Home Rule has gradually disappeared."

"On the other hand, however, the opinion is strongly held that Home Rule is no more a remedy for the evils which afflict us to-day than it was for the evils which afflicted a previous generation, when Mr. Gladstone announced his conversion in the autumn of 1885."

"This difference of view is the practical issue which it is proposed that the convention shall consider. Its first step will be to discuss what the advocates of Home Rule mean by these words, and when this most important and very interesting point has been made clear, the next step for the convention will be to consider whether Home Rule will provide a remedy or not."

The writer, proceeding, admits that the Unionist party will incur grave risks by submitting its case to such a convention, as if it recommended a plan of Home Rule, it is safe to assume that the country is likely to accept its advice. But, he adds, what is sauce for the goose is also sauce for the gander, and if the decision of the convention should be in a contrary sense, is not Home Rule in that case as dead as Queen Anne?

RECRUITS ALREADY.
Two Fine Lads Join the Crew of the Rainbow.

An examination of candidates for admission to the new naval college at cadets is in progress at the city hall to-day, Rev. Dr. Campbell being the examiner. The first two recruits for the Rain-bow have already been taken on, two fine boys of sixteen, Gordon Anderson is a native of Kitamao, and Edgar Morley, born in Scotland, has been living with his parents for some years at Salt Spring Island. Both are most enthusiastic and are of the sort of Canadian lads their country needs in the service.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE IN UNITED STATES

Democratic Governor in Oregon: Portland, Ore., Nov. 9.—Save for the governorship, Oregon yesterday went overwhelmingly Republican and elected A. W. Lafferty, progressive Republican, and re-elected Congressman W. C. Hawley to congress by majorities ranging from five to eight thousand votes.

The election of Oswald West, Democratic candidate for governor, was conceded by the Republican state central committee today. Chairman Alexander Sweek, of the Democratic state central committee, estimates that West's plurality will be four thousand and possibly more. Indications are that the state decided to remain "wet" by an overwhelming majority.

Candidate for Speaker: Bowling Green, Mo., Nov. 9.—In an interview to-day, Champ Clark declared he had been re-elected in the ninth district by no less a plurality than he received two years ago, when he defeated Judge Fry by 1,335. Roy was his opponent in this election.

"I shall be a candidate for the speakership in the next congress, and I expect to be elected," said Clark. "The Democratic landslide, which is apparent at this time, comes as I predicted months ago."

Asked if a Democratic congress will attempt immediately to reduce the tariff schedules, Clark declared:

"Why, certainly. That is why the people have elected a Democratic House. My views on the tariff already well known, will be asserted as speaker of the House."

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—Returns late to-day indicate that John K. Tener, Republican, was elected governor by a plurality of not over 25,000.

The Democrats elected seven of the Pennsylvania congressmen. The Republicans are counting on 22. Three districts are doubtful.

Lodge May Be Defeated.

Boston, Nov. 9.—Revised returns to-day indicate that Governor-elect Foss, Democrat, will have a plurality of 32,779. The rest of the Republican ticket was elected.

The legislature will be Republican, but it will be possible for the anti-Lodge Republicans to prevent the re-election of Senator Lodge.

Results in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—Judson Harmon was re-elected governor of Ohio, according to 70-day's returns, by a substantial plurality over Warren G. Harding, Republican. The legislature is apparently Democratic and a Democratic will succeed Charles Dick in the United States senate. At least 12 congressmen are Democratic, and some districts are still in doubt.

In Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—A complete landslide, carrying into office every Democratic candidate for office in Cook county, including the Superior court judges, was the result of the elections here yesterday.

As a state Illinois, made a gain of four Democratic congressmen.

Aside from the tenth district, where Foss and Finnegan are fighting it out, with the result still in doubt, the Democrats are assured of eleven members in the next house against the Republicans 14.

EASTERN DRY DOCKS.

May Be Built by Government if Private Companies Do Not Undertake Work.

St. John, Nov. 9.—An Ottawa dispatch to the Telegraph says if private companies do not undertake the work of construction of dry docks at Lewis and St. John, under the provisions of the act relating thereto, the government probably will construct them. Government works are needed in connection with the navy.

COMPANY WILL APPEAL.

(Special to the Times.)
Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—In a suit for damages by Dr. Bruce Hill of St. James, against the Street Railway company, for injury to his car in an accident, heard before Chief Justice Howell, the jury yesterday granted $2,000 and costs. The company will appeal.

FORT STREET REALTY.

Fort street realty continues active and several transactions are taking place as a result of the widening and improvement of that thoroughfare which is now to go on.

Cross Co. have completed the sale of the property immediately east of the Hall saloon. It contains an area 57 feet by 120 feet and the price paid by the new owners, local people, was $22,000. It is probable that a modern block will be erected on the site at an early date. Several other realty deals are in negotiation.

On the north side of Fort street, near Quadra street, Green & Burdick have disposed of a lot 60 feet by 120, for $20,000.

KUMERIC'S CARGO.

Advises received by the local agents of the Bank Line, R. F. Ritbet & Co., state that the steamship Kumeric, which left Yokohama on the 4th and is due here on the 19th, is bringing 200 bales of silk valued at $150,000 and consigned to the C. P. R. 500 tons of freight for Dodwell & Co., 1,340 tons of freight for distribution in British Columbia, and 600 of overland cargo consigned to the C. P. R.

It Took Two Hours to Find a Policeman

At a Busy Corner, and When He Came He Didn't Know How to Shoot a Horse.

Two hours to find a policeman to shoot an injured horse, which was lying in the road at a comparatively busy corner—that is some police record for a city of Toronto's pretensions.

Shortly after eight o'clock this morning, a horse belonging to J. Nelson, 106 Jarvis street, slipped and fell at the corner of Wilton avenue and Church street, breaking its left hind leg. A search was immediately started for a policeman to kill the unfortunate beast. At ten o'clock the policeman appeared. Up to that time the animal had not had enough ambition to move. The policeman shot it twice in the neck. At that time the horse jumped up, the blood pouring from the two bullet wounds, and from its nose and mouth.

The policeman seemed dazed. Some one suggested that he shoot the animal behind the ear, but he let it stand there until weakened by loss of blood. It fell down. Then going up to it cautiously, he shot it behind the ear, ending the brute's misery.

In the meantime, nearly all the women who passed by hysterics, or came near doing so.

The accident was caused by the high crown in the pavement at that place. When the pavement is wet or icy, it is very dangerous for horses on that account. The horse was valued at $250.

From the Toronto Star, Oct. 28th.

CLUBMEN WILL GO BACK HOME

PACIFIC MEMBERS RETURN WEDNESDAY

Magnificently Appointed Quarters in the New Pemberton Block

On Wednesday next the members of the Pacific Club expect to be home again, housed in their quarters in the new Pemberton block, where the old home of the club was situated from June 11, 1908, until March 22 last year, when the Pemberton block was consumed by fire and the lavishly appointed quarters of the club were destroyed.

The new quarters in the building on the site of the old home are to be as far advanced on the old quarters as were the old quarters by the club in the Duck block on Broad street. The new quarters are more extensive than any the club has been housed in before, and nothing that money and taste could do and pains accomplish has been left undone to make the Pacific Club quarters equal to, if not better than, those of the best appointed clubs on the Pacific coast.

Although the decorations and the magnificent heads that adorned the walls of the old club cannot be replaced, the magnificence of the new apartments is in no way lessened. In fact, the rooms which the secretary expects to have thrown open on Wednesday next, will far exceed in their appointments the rooms which went down in the flames in March last year.

The club has leased the whole of the top floor of the Pemberton block and fourteen rooms on the second floor. The top floor has been laid out to the special design of the club board of management with the dining, lounging and reading rooms facing the south and west, and from the windows the most magnificent scenic views on the continent are to be had. From the south the mountains across the Sound are plain and all the beauties of the scene lying between. On the west the Sooke hills are in sight, and from the windows on the east side the view out over Oak Bay to the Sound waters is permanent for the eyes of members.

Of the many features in the club home the billiard room perhaps stands out as the acme of perfection, and has the inestimable advantage of being lit from the roof by eight skylights, one for each of the tables. The room is fifty-two feet by sixty-six feet. The walls are adorned with eight magnificent caribou heads, one sheep and two mule deer heads. There are four Burroughs and Watts and four Brunswick-Balke billiard tables, which have been fitted up by Robert Clyburn, Vancouver.

Along the walls are seven morocco-covered lounges, and at night the room will be lighted by twelve forty-candle power and sixteen thirty-two-candle power electric lights, including the lights directly over the tables. These are dropped by chains from the skylights, and have arrangements for hanging up during the day-time while the natural light is in use. An electric clock, connected with the master clock of the B. C. Electric Company, is in the centre of the west wall, and the room is equipped with every luxury, necessity and convenience required, making it one of the most complete and handsome billiard rooms on this continent. From the elevator, entrance is had to the club from the rotunda, where a large Indian rug is spread on the tiled floor. Two large morocco Chesterfield lounges and six mahogany-framed morocco chairs of early English pattern offer a restful and home-like appearance, with a wood fire in the big brick fireplace. Two moose and two caribou heads are on the walls and a six-light, beaten-iron-work chandelier is suspended from the beamed ceiling. Off the hallway are the strangers, card and office rooms, and then facing west a reading room with hardwood floor and moose and caribou heads on the walls. The room is furnished with Morris chairs, lounges and reading desks and tables.

The Dutch bar is one of the club's features, the walls half-way high being of red chimney bricks and the bar similarly constructed, giving a quaint and beautiful effect. The cloak room is provided with self-checking apparatus for each member for cloaks, hats, umbrellas and walkingsticks. Insert the check and the catch opens; press it down and the cloak is locked to its hook, at the same time returning the check to the owner. The article can be released by the introduction of the check again.

On the dining-room floor there are three Indian rugs 21 feet by 16 feet. The tables, chairs and all fixtures are in mahogany. The room is lighted by half a dozen four-burner, hammered brass chandeliers, and during the day one of the most perfect views in the world can be obtained from the windows which face the south.

The large general or lounging room, facing south and west, has the advantage of the double view and will form one of the most comfortable club rooms when the furnishings are in place. These will be in keeping with the general furnishings of the whole club. It is said that if a man is given a big arm-chair, a soft carpet, and a fire he is comfortable, and it is on this plan the club management has catered to the members. Everywhere is luxurious-comfort. In this room there are four beds.

On the second floor are thirteen bedrooms and one linen room. Upstairs are other card-rooms, offices, kitchen, with all the latest up-to-date cooking appliances, cold storage room and everything necessary to make the club complete and in keeping with the best club premises.

In all there are twenty-six heads decorating the walls of the club, all of which have been received as presents from members and friends of members. The interior fittings of the club are all in British Columbia fir.

WRECK ON ELECTRIC LINE

Colfax, Wash., Nov. 8.—A gravel train, loaded with gravel, was in a rear end smash up near Blackwell on the Spokane and Inland electric line yesterday. The caboose and a stock car on the freight train were destroyed. Conductor Donahue of the freight saved his life by jumping.

Motorman Manwaring had a narrow escape from death, jumping as his motor car was thrown across the track. The accident happened on a curve, as the freight was backing up and the gravel train, being heavily loaded, could not stop.

BLIZZARD STOPS RAILWAY WORK

Four Hundred Miles Have Been Built in Alberta This Year

Edmonton, Nov. 9.—Yesterday's blizzard ushered in winter at least two weeks earlier than usual and called halt to practically all the railway construction in the province. Grading outfits from the north and south will cease work this week and seek winter quarters. This brings to a close a very active year in railroad building in this province. Four hundred miles have been built as follows: Canadian Northern, main line, 40; Grand Trunk Pacific, main line, 80; Canadian Northern, Calgary branch, 110; Canadian Northern, Brazeau branch, 35; Canadian Northern, Goose Lake branch, 25; Canadian Northern landing branch, 20; Grand Trunk Pacific, Calgary branch, 125. Of the 400 miles, 265 have been constructed under provincial government guarantees.

ALLEGED INCENDIARISM

Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 9.—The faculty of the California Deaf and Mute Institute, assisted by the Berkeley police, are endeavoring to learn the identity of an alleged incendiary, supposed to be one of the institute students, suspected of having set fire to Strauss hall on the institute campus.

The fire was discovered in the basement of the building when the watchman's dog, by his peculiar actions, led students to leave the smoke-filled room. Prof. Keith, head of the institute, and a corps of volunteers put out the fire before more than nominal damage was done. Strauss hall is a four-story building valued at $50,000.

RAISES QUARTER OF MILLION

KILLS WOMAN WHO REJECTED HIS LOVE

Rancher Shoots School Teacher and Attempts to End Own Life

Ritzville, Wash., Nov. 9.—Because Miss Josephine Pittman, a pretty school teacher on Rattle Snake Flat, spurned his love, Patrick Collins, a rancher on Monday night shot and instantly killed her and then tried to kill himself. The bullet was deflected by a rib, and the doctor says he will live.

The young woman was alone in the house where she lives. Collins returned Monday from Spokane and went at once to the home of Miss Pittman, presumably to again urge his suit. She refused, it is supposed, and the murder followed.

The scene of the murder is seven miles northeast of Washluena. Miss Pittman was about 35 years old. Her home was at 1308 Shanon avenue, Spokane.

SUSPECTED LEPER

SEWARD, Alaska, Nov. 8.—Seward people are greatly alarmed over the contemplated bringing of a leper suspect here from Kenai, Cook Inlet. The local authorities say they will refuse permission for the suspect to land here.

The supposed leprosy victim is a half-breed woman whom the Kenai people refuse to care for longer. They raised a fund to deport her, and forced the local government agent there to take action.

The case has been presented to departmental officials at Washington several times, first being called to their attention months ago but they have refused to take any action.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 9.—The body of Elmer McIntyre, brakeman, who died in the Milan wreck Sunday morning, was found late Monday night and shipped to this city.
Conductor Joseph Keefe's body was found in the wreck Monday afternoon. He had evidently had his leg broken; his death resulting from being smothered in the "miscellaneous freight" which covered him. These two bodies complete the quintet of railroad men who met death in the wreck.

duality between the great trading nations, inasmuch as there is no question that much of the friction in the councils of the various powers has been due to the efforts of protectionists to limit and restrict the natural inclinations of the people to do business with their neighbors.

CONGRESS OF RACES.

In July of next year there will assemble in London representatives of fifty countries of the world for the purpose of discussing the relations existing among the different races, and particularly those between the white races on one side and the colored races on the other.

The question of keeping in touch with the nations of Asia is one that particularly affects Canada, and will do so more and more as the days go by. In every part of the continent there is a stirring of the dry bones.

In the light of the movements mentioned above it is most important to Canada that friendly relations shall be maintained with all the peoples of Asia.

A tremendous political tidal wave swept over the United States yesterday. In nearly all the great states the Democrats, after struggling hopelessly for eighteen years or thereabouts, have achieved unprecedented successes.

Now that the United States is tiring of the Republican leaders, there will be a great scramble for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

To-morrow night the officers and men of His Majesty's Canadian ship Rainbow will be entertained by the Mayor and Aldermen of Victoria at the Drill hall.

and an Englishman expects his wife to make him happy. We don't believe any of them think anything about it.

The historic old naval station at picturesque Esquimalt has changed ownership, but the old flag still flies overhead.

The Colonel encountered his Waterloo yesterday. Wonder what will become of the Big Stick? And what about "my policies"?

Nicholas Longworth was the only Republican to dodge the landslide in the state of Ohio. That is the one sweet ingredient in the bitter cup Nick's esteemed father-in-law will be compelled to drain.

The sovereign people of the United States have definitely settled a controversy which raged furiously in the last House. The Insurgents wanted to oust Canon from the Speakership.

Dr. Robertson in an address at Toronto recently said that education should include three departments—domestic science for the women who managed the homes—nature study for the farmers, miners, fishermen, foresters, and men in towns; and manual training for men in industrial life.

The owner of an automobile which ran over and killed a woman in Montreal and the chauffeur who was driving the machine at the time have each been given six months hard labor.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

The kingship of true manhood, on his brow is written large. Time's hand has failed to trace.

His eyes hold quenchless fires that never fade. With the prophetic vision of the seer, He dreams his dream, interpreting it clear.

His voice holds music for the multitude. His silver speech has all the power to sway.

As leaders must be—oft misunderstood He went his way, but kept his soul serene.

And through the years his steadfast aim has been. His country's welfare and her greatest good.

Before the naked gaze of all the world, The man in him has played a splendid game.

Well has he won the laurels of his fame, Beneath the flag he never yet has furled.

He viewed the mighty nations of the earth, And measured issues with unerring skill, With broad-gauged judgment he pursued his will.

Truth lit for him a bright prophetic star, Whose light shines round him that all men may see.

Not as the leader of a party creed, Greet we him now from East to farthest West.

Let factions fade before the larger thought: Here is a man, who, for his country's weal

His striven to achieve his own ideal, And in the van has ever fairly fought.

For Canada we claim him as our own, And lift on high the vintage in the bowl; Pledging the courage of the stronger soul.

CAMERON LAKE LINE TO OPEN

Thirty Miles of Country Made Accessible by E. & N. Company

To-morrow the E. & N. Railway Company will inaugurate its Cameron Lake service for the first time, opening up an additional thirty miles of trackage, and making accessible to the farmer, the homeseeker, the prospector and the tourist a promising section of the island which has heretofore been denied adequate transportation facilities.

H. E. Beasley, superintendent of the line, in making the announcement to this effect to the Times, said that the company had intended opening the line to general traffic at an earlier date as everything has been in readiness for some weeks, but the road required to be approved by the railway inspectors who recently made a trip over the line, and that approval has now only just been received.

R. Marpole, general executive agent for the C. P. R. in British Columbia, is in the city, and will to-morrow make the inaugural trip over the line. For the present nothing more than an experimental service will be maintained on the line—three days a week, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

There will at present be no formal ceremony in connection with the inauguration of the new service, but when a definite and improved schedule has been placed in operation, no doubt the board of trade and other public bodies will make recognition of an event which is of some importance in connection with the development of Vancouver Island.

Ald. Ross—I don't like this underground business. Let's go through with the report. We called a meeting to discuss it and let's get at it. If there is anything in it, let us see it.

Ald. Humber—There's nothing in it. Ald. Raymond again urged that the report be given to the heads of the departments to look into.

After some further discussion it was moved and seconded that the report be referred to the finance committee for consideration, the committee to report back to the council. An amendment was made that the expert be given an opportunity to explain. This amendment was negatived, only Ald. Bishop and Ross voting in the affirmative, and the mayor declared the original motion carried.

The mayor, speaking to Mr. Helliwell, said he was sorry that he had been brought over from Vancouver to no purpose, but assured him that the finance committee would go into the report with him. He asked him to set a date for the conference with the committee.

It was agreed that Tuesday of next week should be the date of the meeting, and that the heads of the various departments shall be in attendance.

TO ATTEND PACIFIC HIGHWAY MEETING

Ernest McGaffey Left This Afternoon to Represent Vancouver Island

Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League, left this afternoon on the Princess Charlotte for Tacoma, where he will attend a meeting of the Pacific Highway Association. At this gathering the great international road, which is to be built from Tijuana, Mexico, to Vancouver on to Winnipeg and thence to Alaska, will be discussed.

When this road is completed it will mean a great deal for Vancouver Island, as many of the automobilists who will cover that route will visit Victoria to have a glimpse of the roads now in course of construction here. The attractions in the way of scenery and good roads on this island will be enough to draw the attention of all those who take the trip over the international coast.

Many of the large undertakings of the provincial government will be completed by the time the coast road is opened. There will be the new trunk road from Victoria to Alberni, during the course of which some of the most magnificent scenery in the world may be seen; the road to Buttle's Lake, where the National Reserve is situated, and the Clayoquot and Uchelet roads, which will follow the great and rugged coast line of the northern part of the island, and as they will be practically level, it will be a fine place for speeding.

While parts of the international road in the United States have been constructed it will be some time before it will be completed. It is the intention of the association to utilize the government roads in this province as there is almost a through road from the coast to the Alberta border.

The Gummer Allen petition, which has been largely signed in Victoria, is to be dispatched to Ottawa on Friday, and Rev. W. Stevenson wishes all outstanding copies of the petition posted to him without delay.

—At the request of Ald. ### THE MOST REMARKABLE GUARANTEE EVER MADE ON A HEATING STOVE.

We have received a letter from the President of the Cole Manufacturing Company which specifically states that they can guarantee Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove to save a third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal, slack or lignite; it is guaranteed to hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning; guaranteed to have a smoke-proof feed door; guaranteed to remain air-tight as long as used; guaranteed to give a uniform heat day and night with soft coal, hard coal or lignite; guaranteed to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with the same size fire pot, and guaranteed to heat the rooms from one to three hours in the morning with the fuel put in the day before (which does away with kindling or rebuilding the fire each morning).

This guarantee comes with Cole's Hot Blast, which can be bought only from us.

When you analyze this guarantee and see how they state in black and white just what it will do in comparison with other soft coal stoves, and even with hard coal base burners, it is safe to say that the majority of stoves bought this season for heating purposes will be the famous Cole's Hot Blast, for which we are the exclusive selling agents for this town. We have these stoves on our floor and will be pleased to show them to every one interested. Come soon. A. & W. Wilson sole agents, Broad street.

Robert B. Powell, formerly of Victoria, is a member of the English tennis team which has sailed for South Africa to play there under the auspices of the Drive club. The other members of the team are Wallace Myers (captain), C. P. Dixon, F. G. Lowe and A. E. Beamish. Referring to the trip and the team the London Daily Mail says:

"With the exception of Dixon and Myers, it can be looked upon as a thoroughly representative side of the younger school of players, and great interest will accordingly be attached to their progress, especially as it is an entirely different team—Dixon excepted—from that selected by the L. T. A. for the Davis cup contest.

"Three matches against combined South Africa have been arranged. Durban, Johannesburg and Cape Town being the respective meeting places. Christmas will be spent at Johannesburg, but previous to this matches will be played against Kimberley, Bloemfontein and Ladysmith. During January Pretoria, Delagoa Bay, Bulawayo, Salisbury, and the Victoria Falls will be visited, and the tour will be brought to a conclusion at Cape Town, the team being expected to arrive home about the middle of February.

"South Africa can now boast of several fine players, who have improved considerably since the visit of the All-England team two years ago. It will be remembered that the Englishmen had all their work cut out to win the international matches, so the task of the Drive club team will be a considerably harder one. They will doubtless take some little time to get into their game, as lawn tennis out there is played only on hard courts. As soon as this has been effected I am convinced they will render a good account of themselves, and that they will take with them the good wishes of the English lawn tennis community practically goes without saying."

LIQUOR ACT, 1910.

Notice is hereby given that, on the first day of December next, application will be made to the Superintendent of Provincial Police for renewal of the hotel license to the Victoria Hotel, situate at Esplanade, in the province of British Columbia. Dated this 17th day of October, 1910. JOSEPH BAKER, Applicant.

Three-quarters—McLorg, Crusaders; Johnston, Rowing Club; Sid Thomas, Welsh; Owen Sowers, Rowing Club; Reserves, Sweeney and Wilson, Rowing Club. Half backs—Byrne and N. Sowers, Rowing Club. HUNT CLUB'S FIRST RUN ON SATURDAY

Paper Trail Across Fences of Saanich District Will Mark Path for Members

The Victoria Hunt Club will furnish a novel attraction for Victoria on Saturday, when the first run will take place.

The hounds and the foxes and the scent will not be used because there is no trained pack and no master of hounds, but the members will jump those fences of the Saanich district which will be defined by the distribution of a paper trail.

The course the horses and huntsmen and huntswomen will follow is being laid out during the week, and the consent of owners of the various fields through which the hunt club members desire to pass is being secured.

By Saturday the officials of the hunt club hope to have matters in good shape and to announce the exact course that is likely to be followed. The organization of a hunt club has occasioned considerable satisfaction in the ranks of city horsemen and among those of Saanich and other suburban areas, so that there promises to be, if the indications received by the club officers turn out to be correct, a large following to hounds on Saturday afternoon.

SPORT NOTES

A good roads rally will be held at Tacoma to-morrow night, in connection with the newly-formed Auto Highway Association.

The proposed tour of Australia by the Westminster lacrosse team, world's champions, is off, because the plan is not welcomed by the Australian press. Hugh McIntosh was behind the scheme but is advised that it would be a financial failure if attempted. The Australian press is unanimous in saying "The time is not yet ripe for another visit from a Canadian lacrosse team."

The Vancouver Rugby union has decided that it is impossible to set December 17 at Victoria and January 14 at Vancouver definitely for the other McKechnie cup games. The dates are held to be too far ahead to give a definite answer.

Stanford University and all the other California Rugby teams have accepted the new five-yard rule and announce that it works satisfactorily. All Vancouver Rugby games have been called off for Saturday so that the players can come to the Capital to see the match here.

John P. Sweeney was made manager of the Royal Athletic Park Association last night, and will act in that capacity until the transfer of the park to the Victoria baseball syndicate.

The probable transfer was announced in the Times last night and meantime L. A. Wattelet has thought it advisable to resign from one of his dual positions so that he can carry on the negotiations for one side only. Whether the park will be leased or purchased is not definitely settled, but negotiations with Miss Parshall's lawyers have been in progress for several days.

To-night and to-morrow night the Rugby players will hold a practice to get into the best possible condition for the McKechnie cup match at Oak Bay on Saturday next. The team will be selected after practice to-morrow. Friday night the men will lay off.

Men who are practically certain of places on the representative Capital City team are: Johnston, J. B. A. A., fullback; Newcombe and A. Gillespie, three quarters; Leo Sweeney and Jeffs, J. B. A. A., Miller, the two Gillespies and Heinekey, Victoria, forwards. There are five other players to fill the three-quarter and forward lines wanted, but the men named should form the backbone of the team. There is Dennis Thompson, J. B. A. A., who deserves recognition, and if a fast heavier man cannot be found Nelson's claims will be in order, but against the heavy Vancouver team this fast little three-quarter would not show as well as in lighter weight company.

That most persistent loser, Dr. B. F. Roller, undertook to throw Hjalmar Lunden at Boston twice in an hour last night, but only succeeded in getting one fall in 45 minutes 19 1/2 seconds.

The Dixie Ross basketball team beat the Y. M. C. A. five to a game at the Institute hall last night. The score was 20 to 14.

The Hamilton Tigers have clinched the Interprovincial Rugby championship of the east. Ottawa is second, Montreal third and the Argos fourth. Toronto leads Queens by two games in the Eastern intercollegiate league.

PASSING SHOW

New Grand Theatre.

Fred Hallen and Mollie Fuller are back in Victoria playing at the Grand in a new comedy which gives Hallen full power for his cleverness and powers as a comedian. The vehicle which Mr. Hallen who appears as a burglar, and Miss Fuller use on this tour is "The Lesson at 11 p. m.", and with the assistance of one additional character they evolve a clever story of a jealous husband and a jealous wife who each pay the burglar money to teach each a lesson in matrimonial duty. After a series of comic situations the play ends with a pistol duel on the floor, which is more ludicrous than any part of the show preceding it.

A feature for the children, and for the others of the population, is the "Ventrilo-drama" of Alf Camm, Theira, and Chuck. With much humorous patter, a splendid dramatic recitation, "Lasca," by Theira, and singing down in the audience by Alf Camm himself through a dummy. "Ventrilo-drama" is making a great big hit, and the performers were galled before the curtain frequently at the end of the act Monday and yesterday.

Romain, a violinist, offers three selections of a classical nature and gives them with marked success. The audiences are specially appreciative of his bird imitations, and hearty applause continues till Romain appears for the closing number of his act.

The Rialto, a team of foreign acrobats, have one of the most sensational acts in vaudeville, full of sensational and thrilling situations. The Brown boys dances his way with thrilling ease into the public fancy, giving many new steps, and altogether a speedy exhibition of the movement of his reckless feet. A new song that suited Thomas J. Price's voice is heard from him, and pictures of great beauty accompany the song. Moving picture films close the show.

Majestic Theatre.

The new mid-week bill contains some exceptionally good subjects. "The Shriners' Pilgrimage to New Orleans" depicts the manoeuvres held in April the fancy marching and evolutions being a revelation in precision of movement and smartness. "Over Mountain Passes" is an educational subject of unique interest, showing how copper ore is shipped out in Peru on the backs of llamas to the railroad. "Footlights or Farm" is a very practical drama, illustrating that stage life is not without its delusions. "A gold Necklace" and "How Hubby Got a Raise," are a couple of good comedies, while "The Spanish in Morocco" shows some interesting views of the recent fighting with the Moors. "The Banks of the Zuyder Zee" depicts quaint scenes of Dutch life. The whole bill provides a fund of solid entertainment.

Crystal Theatre.

The bill for Wednesday and Thursday is especially brilliant and entertaining. "The Clown and Wary Pasha" is really clever comedy with a touch about it, finely pictured and a splendid entertainer. "A True Country Heart" is a dramatic production of real interest and power. "An Animated Gazette," an instructive, pleasing and decidedly amusing picture, is a clever production. "The Wrong Floor," a genuine comic, causes no end of merriment, the whole subject ludicrous but cleverly done. The music to accompany these programmes is changed with the pictures, and is new and suitable. The song, "Planning," illustrated, sung by Geo. McLellan, should please.

"The Kissing Girl."

A crowded house was greatly pleased with the presentation of "The Kissing Girl" at the Victoria theatre last evening. It is a very bright musical comedy, with lots of tuneful music and humorous situations. There is nothing objectionable in any way about it, as there has been with other musical shows which have visited Victoria.

A company of more than ordinary strength, both in vocal and dramatic value, interpreted the charming story.

Miss Texas Guinan has the role of "The Kissing Girl," Dick Temple and Harry Hermon were the comedians and Louis London, a tenor, romanced with Verita Fitzhugh, at one time prima donna with the original "The Time, the Place and the Girl" company. An important member of the cast was Ida Fitzhugh, a delightful old character woman from the principal Berlin theatres. The chorus was a large one and the girls all good looking. Miss Vandy is a clever dancer. Miss Guinan is an accomplished actress and possesses a fine voice.

IRRIGATION WORKS.

VERNON, B. C., Nov. 8.—Another section of the Grey canal, the great irrigation system of the White Valley Irrigation and Power Co., has been completed and water is now flowing freely through the great siphon across the head of Swan lake at the rate of six hundred cubic feet per minute.

This siphon is eleven thousand feet long and twenty-two inches in diameter. For several thousand feet of its length it sustains a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch. These three features taken together constitute a record for wooden pipe. The pipe was manufactured by the Municipal Construction company of Vancouver, and was laid under the charge of J. G. Knight.

Only a small section of the Grey canal now remains to be constructed. This irrigation scheme irrigates upwards of twenty thousand acres of fruit land in White Sulphur, Colquhoun and Vernon districts. The big ditch is over thirty miles in length, and with the exception of the C. P. B. irrigation works in Alberta, is the biggest thing of the kind in Canada.

The McLaughlin Buick Car Still Leads

MR. ERNEST G. MAYNARD, 516 Park Boulevard, Victoria, writes the following: Western Motor Supply Co., Victoria, B. C.: Gentlemen:—I have driven my McLaughlin Buick Car continually since May 18th, 1909, covering OVER 15,000 MILES, and during this period my repairs and replacement account has only been $7.00, for one spark plug and one spring. My car is running as well now as when I purchased it. I have travelled over some of the roughest roads on this island, also been over the Summit several times, and still running on the same tires I got with the car. I feel safe in saying it is the BEST "CAR ON THE MARKET FOR THE MONEY." This is only one of the many unsolicited testimonials that have been received. Better come in and let us demonstrate one for you.

SUPPOSED PLOT TO KILL MIKADO

Twenty-Six Suspected Anarchists, Including Women, in Custody in Japan

(Times Leased Wire.)
Tokyo, Nov. 9.—The greatest excitement was aroused in Japan to-day by the announcement that the trial of 26 alleged Anarchists arrested three weeks ago for a supposed plot to take the life of the Mikado would shortly be begun.
Among the suspected Anarchists is a woman, Suga Kanno, who will be tried with the others. The attitude of the alleged plotters against the Mikado is being investigated and it is the general belief that in arresting the 26 suspects the authorities have nipped a widespread Anarchistic movement in the empire in the bud.
Kotoku, leader of the band, according to general belief, brought the Anarchistic beliefs of his followers from America, where he went in 1906. He is an ardent student of Kropotkin's publication. It is believed that he and his followers were planning a reign of terror to be brought about by labor differences and assassinations.

—Laugh. Well, I should say. See the fun. St. George's ball.
—Ex-Alderman John A. Turner has a card out announcing his candidature for the mayoralty.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Daughters of Scotland will be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Sir William Wallace hall, Broad street. After the meeting a social will be held and good music provided.

—For the annual dinner of the Caledonian Society, to take place in the Driford on Wednesday, November 30—not tonight, as stated in error on Monday—there is a large sale of tickets, and the event promises to be a very successful one.

—A joint business and social meeting of the Young People's Bible class of the Metropolitan Methodist church will be held in the lounge room of the church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to attend as business of importance is to be transacted, including the reorganization of the class.

—Building permits have been issued to Mrs. Georgina Hale for a dwelling to be erected on Gladstone street to cost $1,000; to J. M. Strong, dwelling on Moss street to cost $2,200; to Messrs. Irwin and Brown, dwelling on Duchess street to cost $2,500; to Richard Bowles, alterations to residence on Rendall street to cost $200, and to William E. Ross, additions to residence on Lydia street to cost $300.

—Are you spectating or masking at St. George's ball to-morrow?

—Preparations for the annual sale of work of the Ladies' Guild and Young Women's Club of the Metropolitan Methodist church, which is to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in Victoria hall, Blanchard street, are about completed and the ladies are looking forward to a most successful time. Numerous fancy and useful articles will be offered for sale and musical programmes will be given on both evenings.

—Mrs. W. A. Jameson is arranging a unique entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Young People's Society in Knox church next Monday evening. Music written or composed by Victorians will be rendered, and readings from works of Victorians will be given. There will be an exhibition of home products manufactured in Victoria, and the refreshments served will be made in Victoria. The evening is sure to prove a most interesting one.

An application is being made to-day to the department of Justice at Ottawa by C. E. Davie's Ottawa agents for a new trial for Gunner Allen, under sentence of death for the murder of Capt. Ellison. The ground taken by Mr. Davie in his application for a new trial is that certain evidence was improperly read at the trial, which, although not admitted by the learned judge, was nevertheless heard by the jury, which might have been influenced thereby.

—Meet me at St. George's ball.

—At the regular meeting of Pride of the Island Lodge, S. O. E. B. S., last evening, ten candidates were initiated and a similar number made application for membership and will be duly initiated at the next regular meeting. During the past year phenomenal success has attended the lodge, the membership increasing by leaps and bounds. The social committee have on hand a social and dance for Tuesday, November 22, to which all sons and daughters of England and friends are cordially invited.

—Funnier than a circus. More amusing than a show. St. George's masque ball.

—Monday evening a meeting was held in the First Congregational church for the purpose of organization for the International Young Men's Week of Prayer to be held by the Y. M. C. A., A. B. C. Movement and the Brotherhood, commencing on Sunday next. It was decided to hold a young people's rally on Monday evening in the Metropolitan Methodist church and an Adult Bible class rally on Wednesday evening in the First Congregational church. On Thursday evening prayer meetings will be held in all the churches of this city.

To the Electors of the City of Victoria

I beg to announce myself as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1911.
I am not allied with any party, clique or faction, and will, if elected, do my best at all times to advance the interest of the city generally, and will support anything that in my opinion means the upbuilding of the city, morally and materially.
I will use my utmost endeavor to give the city a good business administration, to give the city employees a fair wage for their services, and at the same time see that the ratepayers get value for their money; to see that the laws are strictly enforced without fear or favor; and to put as far as I possibly can each civic department on an efficient basis.
"Good Roads" will be as it always has been the main plank in my platform, as I consider that is the only way that we can bring Victoria up to the position she is entitled to, not merely as a capital of the province, but as the most delightful residential city on the Pacific coast.
I do not propose to attempt to make a personal canvass, first because it is practically impossible, and second because I do not believe in the principle: You know my record and I take this opportunity of soliciting your support; I think I can and will give you a clean, honest, and a more efficient and businesslike administration of city affairs than we have at present.
Yours respectfully,
JOHN A. TURNER.

MAY BUILD A NEW BOAT FOR SKEENA
Season of Navigation Just Ended One of Best Experienced
With the close of navigation on the Skeena it is rumored that the Prince Rupert and Skeena Navigation Company, owning the new stern-wheeler "Inlander," will build a stater boat for service on the river next year. A special dispatch to the Times from Prince Rupert states that the population of Hazelton and other river points has increased three-fold during the year, and that hundreds of tons of freight still remain in the warehouses at Rupert, Port Simpson and Port Eslington, the river fleet having been unable to cope with the business offering.
The Hudson's Bay Company cleaned up all its own freight with the exception of about 50 tons, but the other steamers operating on the river were unable to keep pace with the rush of shipments. It is on this account that the construction of a new steamer to be used for the one remaining year of navigation on the Skeena is considered to be a profitable enterprise.
The G. T. P. on November 1st had work trails running to Mileage 90, a point ten miles below Kitselas canyon, and next year's traffic will be largely confined to points above Kitselas. The season just ended is considered one of the best which the boats have experienced. Although no less than 8 steamers were in constant operation not a single serious accident occurred.

ZEELANDIA COMING.
The Canadian-Australian liner Zeelandia, which left Sydney on the 24th ultimo for this port, sailed from Honolulu yesterday, and is expected in port on the 15th. The Zeelandia left Brisbane with 30-saloon, 25 intermediate and 43 steerage passengers.
NOTICE TO MARINERS.
The agent of marine at this port gives notice that gas lighted beacons will be established at an early date on the Crane Islets, new channel, Queen Charlotte Sound, and Low Islet, off Selwyn Inlet, Moresby Island, Queen Charlotte Islands. Also that Cliff Bluff, Lama passage, will be whitewashed to make it more distinguishable during darkness.

SENATORS AT LOGGERHEADS.
Melbourne, Nov. 9.—A remarkable situation at present prevails in the Australian senate. The Labor majority, rejoicing in its strength, refused to accept any amendment moved by the Liberals to any legislation before the house. The Liberals, to meet this move on the part of their political opponents, announce that they have resolved not to offer any further suggestions as to the course of legislation.

The Chocolates that are Different

There is no such thing as "Chocolates Made Fresh Every Hour". Any dealer, who claims to sell Chocolates an hour after they are made, either mis-states the facts or knows nothing about bon-bon or chocolate making.
All chocolate creams, when first made, are hard, and must be kept at least a fortnight before they become soft again.
Neilson's Chocolates are always matured for at least a month. This maturing brings the centers of the chocolates back to their original creamy state—and allows the delicious fruit centers to blend perfectly with the cream.
Neilson's Chocolates come in 33 different packages containing something different and delightful for every "sweet tooth".
If you are unable to obtain Neilson's Chocolates in your vicinity, send us 50¢, and we will send you a special package of the most delicious assorted Chocolates you ever ate.
"Cherries in Maraschino, Chocolate Dipped" are as different as they are delicious. A plump French cherry in Maraschino, surrounded by a melting cream, enclosed in a globe of indescribably rich chocolate.

made that in the interests of the club and to stimulate those who were not present, her helpful address should be printed in full. A short discussion followed as to the advisability of continuing the meetings of the club throughout the season, and the feeling of the meeting was unanimous in favor of doing so. A programme will be prepared by the executive at its next meeting outlining a course of study which will have to do strictly with things Canadian, and the meetings will be held once a month in the Alexandra Club rooms. As Mrs. Jenkins very fittingly expressed it: "The club is to be kept alive it must have some definite aim and object, and not depend for its existence and entertainment on chance strangers." Among those present last evening were: Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Cleland, Mrs. F. Clarke, Mrs. Hallam, Mrs. Hasell, Mrs. J. T. Reid, the Misses Lawson, Miss Evans, Miss Lillian Clarke, Mrs. Conova, Miss Workman, Mrs. Wood and a number of others.

The Evening Chit-Chat

Doubtless most of you have read in your newspapers recently of the death of that grand old woman, Julia Ward Howe. And by the obituary notices you were doubtless reminded of Mrs. Howe's having written the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and of her great service to the cause of abolition.

I happened to have the great honor of knowing Julia Ward Howe and of being occasionally received into her home, and I want to tell you the thing that impressed me the most about her. And that was, not the work that she had accomplished, but simply the wonderfully beautiful old age which the quality of her life made possible for her. You cannot often say "beautiful old lady" and really mean it. You could of her. I never saw a young woman who gave any more pleasure to the eye than this exquisite old lady as she held sway from her "Throne Chair," as her visitors call it.
She almost always wore a lavender gown and a white lace cap beneath which her white hair was parted and drawn softly back. Her hands and face looked as if they were carved out of ivory. Thomas Lawson, who paid her a beautiful tribute at her death, called her a Dresden china figure. She always made me think more of lavender, ivory, old lace and things of that sort.
But the really beautiful expression of that old face. You see Mrs. Howe had never stopped really thinking, never ceased being interested in things. She has had a large family and done her duty by them. A lovelier family of children and grandchildren you could not hope to see. But she has always had time to be interested in the outside world, to study, to read, to be thoroughly alive.
Mrs. Howe was 91 when she died, and yet up to her last illness she wrote a little every day, read a little Greek and Latin, and practiced at her piano. Last spring there was some question about the purity of the milk the Boston wards were getting, and it was Julia Ward Howe's pen and presence that aroused the public in this serious matter.
There is a little story about a portrait of Mrs. Howe, which her son-in-law John Elliott painted, without which no tribute to her is complete. It seems to me this illustrates her greatest service to women.
This portrait, which represents Mrs. Howe sitting in her morning room reading, was exhibited at her son-in-law's studio in Italy. Queen Margherita, who was at the exhibit, was so impressed by this picture that she would scarcely look at any other. She asked many questions about the original, and as she was about to leave came to Mr. Elliott and said, "You tell me that this is a portrait of a distinguished old woman of your country, but I tell you that it is a picture of old age as it ought to be."
It seems to me it isn't what Julia Ward Howe wrote or her work in the abolition cause that makes her such a great figure. It is more the quality of her life—a life ripening into an old age that deserved such a tribute as that—a life which stands as a pattern for that which, without neglecting her home or children, a public-spirited woman's life ought to be.

COHOE SALMON TAKEN IN LAKE AT SUMMIT

Fish Weighed Four or Five Pounds and Was 23 Inches Long.

A coho salmon was taken on Sunday in Spectacle lake, at the Summit. It weighed four pounds after being cleaned and must have weighed five when taken. It was in poor condition, very dark, scaleless but fat. Its length was 23 inches. The lake from which it was taken is little more than a pond about the size of Swan lake.

Five or six years ago W. Bailey placed what he thought was trout fry in the lake. It came from the Bon Accord hatchery. Some of the same consignment was also placed in Sooke, Shawnigan and the mountain lakes. Last year a coho was taken from the same lake but those who took it were not aware of their ground. The fish taken on Sunday has been examined by Indians and experts, and all declare it to be a coho.

The fish was shot by hunters. It was making an effort to leave the lake by a small stream and was in shallow water when shot.

The taking of this fish seems to prove that the salmon can live in fresh water for the term of their natural lives.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN
PASTOR AT DUNCAN

Rev. W. L. Raynes Ordained as Minister of St. Andrew's Church

(Special Correspondence of the Times)

Duncan, Nov. 8.—A most interesting service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, when Rev. W. L. Raynes, a recent graduate of the newly-established Presbyterian college, Westminster Hall, in Vancouver, was ordained as clergyman of St. Andrew's church. Mr. Raynes is one of the first graduates of Westminster Hall. Rev. Forbes Robertson, the moderator, conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Campbell, Victoria, Rev. A. Robertson, Nanaimo; Rev. D. A. McRae, Victoria West; Rev. Geo. Wilson, superintendent of home missions for British Columbia. Visiting clergymen were Rev. R. P. McKay, D.D., of Toronto, superintendent of foreign missions for the Presbyterian church of Canada, and Rev. Fraser-Campbell, who has been in Central India for 34 years.

After the usual ceremony of laying on of hands, Rev. Dr. Campbell addressed the newly ordained minister, welcoming him to the presbytery and instructing him in his duties.

Rev. Geo. Wilson addressed the congregation. The name of Rev. W. L. Raynes was then put on the roll of the presbytery.

After the ordination service a meeting was held in the interests of the laymen's missionary movement connected with the Presbyterian church of Canada, at which Mr. Raynes presided.

Dr. Fraser-Campbell, the guest speaker, outlined the missionary work in India and told of the great need of help. Dr. R. P. McKay spoke of the mission work in India and thought that the time was ripe for the Canadian church to establish missions in Africa. Mr. Wilson spoke of the needs of the home missions in British Columbia.

It was decided to use the duplex system for contributions, by which contributions for home and for foreign missions may be put in two pockets in one envelope.

NICOLA VALLEY HOSPITAL.

Merritt, Nov. 8.—The very important question of a general hospital for Nicola valley came up before a citizens' meeting the other night. It was the consensus of opinion that a hospital was very badly needed. The question of a site was taken up and discussed. Gilbert Blair, through his local agents, offered gratis a hospital site comprising two acres on his property just across the Yort street bridge on the way to Middlesboro. The secretary was instructed to write Mr. Blair thanking him most cordially for his kind offer. It was finally decided to form a representative committee of the valley and to have said committee meet to devise ways and means for the establishment of a general hospital in Merritt.

SUDDEN DEATH.

New Westminster, Nov. 8.—The death occurred in Vancouver on Saturday night of Henry Mathers, aged 94, father of W. J. Mathers of this city, manager of the Brackman-Ker Milling Company. Mr. Mathers, despite his great age, had been in fairly good health. On Saturday afternoon his son in New Westminster telephoned to him. Later in the evening he fell asleep and was shortly afterwards found dead. The deceased was a native of Ireland and came to British Columbia thirty-four years ago. He moved to Vancouver a few years ago, where he held some property.

The French government is considering making Greenwich time the compulsory standard for that nation instead of the local time of Paris, now generally used.

When you see Monterey Place you will realize it is an ideal place to live.

When you take into consideration the fact that there is no rock to blast before you can get a basement for your home or connect it with water, sewer, etc.; when you figure on the labor saved because there are no stumps to "grub"; when you see rich, black soil ready for lawn or flowers or garden; when you learn of the street improvements about to be commenced, then you'll agree that the prices are more than reasonable, that they are less than they'll be a few months hence.

There are many other special features, such as low taxes, lanes in rear, closeness to school, park, beach, etc., that go to make these specially desirable.

A Dancing School Dress of Parr Lawn and Lace

Youthful Frocks Mimic Grown-Up Styles—Velvet Dresses Quaint and Picturesque—Dainty Dancing School Dresses—Practical and Pretty Wool Frocks for Winter School Wear.

Long ago mothers ceased struggling with the problem of the little boy's bifurcated garments at home and took to buying the little tops sensibly in the ready-made departments, where for very little more than the cost of desirable materials made up at home good-looking sailor and Russian suits are procurable; suits made, too, in such a workmanlike, tailored manner that they will outlast models put together by mother fingers.

This happy emancipation, however, has not until very lately been the privilege of the mother of the little girl. Many women still spend laborious hours over the sewing machine, turning out frocks and undergarments for the small daughter, believing that only by this means can the proper grade of fabrics and trimmings be managed within the stipulated outlay of money. Certainly such a frock may be contrived more cheaply at home, provided the services of a dressmaker are not counted in, and no doubt materials and trimmings will be of a more substantial sort than those used in the ready-made garments; but more than likely the home-made dress will be far behind the ready-made model in smartness and those little touches of style which make for prettiness and individuality and distinction.

MORE WOOL FROCKS WORN NOW THAN IN YEARS

Highly salaried designers are employed by the manufacturers of these little clothes, and though desirably simple in line and style, the small frocks and coats have that chic and cachet which can only come from an imitation of an artist in the frock line, and in, moreover, one of those clever amateur dressmakers who never servant the newest notion in trimming touches, color combinations and the like, it will be much better to have but one or two really smart little frocks, using them as copies for development in other colors and fabrics.

Tub frocks have been worn winter and summer by the small girls for several seasons, but for some unaccountable reason this year little wool and mohair dresses seem to be the thing and dozens of delightful models in these fabrics are offered at really wonderfully small prices.

Mohair and sciellene in plain colors are in high favor for frocks as these materials are most durable and practical and do not wear or soil readily. The mohair frock, moreover, may be dipped into the tub occasionally for a freshening, and one little school dress which the scribe knows intimately, has been washed and ironed three times—silk pipings and all, each time appearing much refreshed and ready for a new lease of life.

LIGHTWEIGHT MATERIALS BEST FOR CHILDREN'S FROCKS

Though velvet, corduroy and broadcloth are being used for handsome frocks in Russian belted style, for ceremonious wear, the lightweight wool material, if not as has been said of mohair or sciellene, Serge, panama, prunella, cashmere, all these fabrics in plain colors are suitable; and there are silk and wool plaids and shepherd checks in neutral tones that are gay and cheerful when enlivened with silk pipings, fancy buttons, braid and stitching. Velvet trimming is never very satisfactory on a school frock for dust has a way of settling in the crevices and young girls will seldom give the particular attention with a whisk broom which velvet assuredly needs.

Serge frocks on the middle order are always dear to the young school girl's soul and these comfortable models are easy to slip on and off, with no extra trouble in the way of collar pins or belt adjustment—always a consideration with the boarding school girl who seldom has a minute to spare before the breakfast gong rings. A charming and practical navy blue serge in a style following the suggestions of the regulation middie suit, but having a more conventional suggestion—the skirt is narrow and straight—for the young miss' frocks resemble those of her mother in this respect—and there is a modish "hobble" band which passes around the skirt from the panel at the front to a similar panel at the back.

A "HOBBLE" BAND THAT UNBUT TONS

A very clever notion, in the designing of this skirt is the detachable band which will give the "hobble" effect just as long as this extreme style is in vogue and not a minute longer, for the band is only tacked to the drawn-in skirt, the stitches being disguised with buttons. When the band is removed, a dampening and pressing of the skirt material will easily remove all traces of the stitches used to catch the two fabrics together.

This little dress is all in one piece, the fastening being made at one side of the front which, as indicated, is double-breasted. The material is striped under and stitched over bright scarlet silk on the bodice and sleeve, giving a very festive trimming touch. The black "hobble" band and broad collar and cuffs of heavy Venice lace attractively finish a most charming jeune fille frock.

FANCY NECKWEAR BRIGHTENS SOMBER LITTLE DRESSES

All the small girls now are wearing broad, turn-down collars with cuffs to match with their school frocks—and the cuffs, mind you, are a most important part of this garniture. It is a labor of love for any mother to keep snowy cuffs on the little sleeves which rub up and down over a school desk all the morning, but these white accessories are so dainty and charming that the trouble is well worth while.

One may buy deep, turned down collars with cuffs to match, made of plain white, starched linen, or the sets may be made up at home from handkerchief linen, the edges being simply buttonholed. These sets are, of course, much finer and daintier—and therefore much smarter than the ready-made linen collars and Byron collars in the shops.

A very smartly dressed little maid who each morning walks sedately to school on Fifth avenue, followed for the two short blocks of her journey by a dignified young footman carrying her books and accompanied by her "fraulein" whose duty it is to deliver her charge safely into the arms of the fashionable alma mater where the three "R's" are acquired, wears serge frocks of the utmost simplicity, enlivened only by these snowy cuffs and collars of fine linen. Her dresses, which have the air of being cut by an expensive tailor, fasten down one side of the front in Russian fashion, no buttons being visible, but instead of being a bona fide Russian blouse this hip length upper garment is dubbed a "chemise" and opens at either side as far as the waistline where there is a very broad patent leather belt, worn rather loosely. The whole frock, in fact, looks loose and gives an effect of great slenderness, and the white, turned down collar and broad cuffs are exceedingly smart.

Irish lace collars and cuffs are worn with afternoon dresses of velvet which are making their appearance at the select dancing school sessions. The finest velvets, of course, are used for these little frocks and the models are strikingly simple, chiefly in a modified Russian style.

Pinafores Pleasing and Practical

A GALATEA PINAFORE WITH KATE GREENWAY ORNAMENTATION

The little girl of modern days, denied the dear privilege of a freshly ironed pinafore, misses half her inheritance. Most of us grown-ups remember the gala occasions when, there being company in the drawing-room, we were summoned down stairs, our hair being first hastily and sleekly brushed and a fresh pinafore slipped on over our dark frock.

To this day the little English girl has her pinafores—some for school, some for the nursery at home, some for the garden and very particular affairs of white dainty with engaging frills for wear over the Sunday frock. Few little American girls, however, especially if they be town-bred, know anything about pinafores. Their idea of an apron is connected with orphan asylums and just as this badge of sweet feminine domesticity, the apron, has been banished from milady's sanctum, so has it disappeared from the nursery. This summer at Newport a very important little girl—judging from a fashionable standpoint—wore the most bewitching pinafore over her inexpensive little frocks ofingham and chambray, and it is safe to say that dozens of little maidens whose wardrobes are patterned by their watchful mammams after the garments of this little pinafore-wearer will shortly appear similarly garbed.

The little Newport girl's pinafores were all built on the same plan. They were of fine white dimity in cross-barred and striped patterns and fitted the slender little figure easily across the shoulders, while flaring prettily out over the skirt, which showed an inch or two below the pinafore hem. The neck was cut in Dutch style and finished with a turned-down collar, with rounded corners at front and back, and the moderately full sleeve was gathered into a buttoned cuff just below the elbow. Collar, cuffs, the delightful pockets at the front of the pinafore and the ends of the long sash that tied at the back, were all trimmed with very narrow and very fine embroidery. A few of the pinafores were of handkerchief linen, with hand-embroidered scallops instead of machine-embroidery trimming.

Could anything be more charmingly old-fashioned and little-girlish than these pretty pinafores? It is to be hoped that the good old fashion, revived as a fad by this particular mother, will spread over the land, and that every little maid may have her dainty aprons for school and play wear this season.

Kindergarten aprons with fascinating Kate Greenway figures printed on brown Holland and blue galatea delight the small girls who don these ready-for-business affairs over dainty frocks. These aprons are also suitable for boys' wear and they are so easy to make and so useful in protecting pretty frocks during such strenuous employments as making sand pies, weeding the garden or helping cook on baking day that every little girl ought to have half a dozen. Two of these gay kindergarten aprons are illustrated and the photographs show clearly the simple cut and substantial, practical nature of these pinafores.

The overworked romper seems a poor substitute for the charming pinafore, though the romper is a jolly enough little garment on a roly-poly mite who crawls and creeps in preference to walking. But the romper like must really be drawn somewhere, and contemplating tall lanky little girls of nine or ten, with their hair tied up in ribbons in semi-young ladies style, and thin, long legs protruding from romper trousers—one is quite positive that this romper idea can be carried too far. The same little girl in a dark chambray and picturesque, is really unsuited for dancing school wear, the thin lingerie dress or a model of some equally cool, thin fabric being preferable for the vigorous exercise. It is a charming sight to watch the little maids "make their manners" in a deep courtesy at the door, and because of these courteous skirts must be wider than the narrow affairs which grown up women are wearing now. Accordion pleating is much used for these dancing school and party frocks, and usually the plaited material is chiffon, mounted over very thin, soft liberty satin.

PALE YELLOW NOW A CHILD'S COLOR

The incessant baby blue and pink, accorded by custom and propriety to the little girl, are often varied now with pale corn-color or delicate green, and these shades are delightfully becoming on the fair prettiness of young girlhood. Sometimes shirps of colored silk add greatly to the attractiveness of a simple lingerie dress and with colored ribbons of handsome quality and in the same dainty shade procure a dressy little party costume. The dancing school frock shown in the photograph is much enhanced by a silk lining slip of palest yellow, the ribbon sash and hair ribbons being in the same shade.

SASHES ANYWHERE EXCEPT IN THE CONVENTIONAL PLACE

Eccentric indeed are the ways in which the little girl's sash is now adjusted. It may be draped obliquely over her frock, or pass under it, showing through the thin material. It may be tied at the side or over the hip or near the front, but seldom or never is it passed straight around the waist and knotted in a bow-knot at the back in the old-time way. And always it must be soft and draped gracefully and rather heavily over the skirt. Persian sashes are very smart and are liked better now than the flowered ribbons which have had their day. A little dancing school dress of pink chiffon is accordion plaited—both skirt and waist, and beneath the skirt on the silk lining are draped three sashes, each a shade darker pink than the next above. The three pinks mingle in a big soft bow at the back—all being subdued by the clouding of pale pink chiffon over them.

Very small girls are wearing white corduroy dresses trimmed with bands of English eyelet embroidery, "picked out" with white soutache, that is, the soutache follows the edges of the eyelet pattern, throwing up the design in strong relief and producing a very handsome trimming. Corduroy frocks in old blue and dregs of wine shades are also seen for dressy wear, and sometimes there are steel buttons and belts of silver embroidery, or fancy dull gold embroidery. With such frocks very handsome Dutch collars of old cream lace or snow white baby Irish are worn.

SMART OUT-OF-DOOR TOGS IN COLD WEATHER STYLE

Two representative winter models in young girls coats are illustrated, one of these coats being of the practical everyday type and the other a very dressy model for Sunday or occasional wear. The former coat is made of mixed worsted in a new Kaffir brown shade and has big wooden buttons with steel rims. The placing of these buttons on the wide gauntlet cuffs and horizontally across the front of the coat is especially interesting, the front stretching across in a sharp V toward the left side. The long revers are of brown velvet, and the hat a big brown beaver in cloche style, is trimmed with black ribbon and faced in rose pink. The other coat is a dainty and dressy model of pale, sea broadcloth with broad collar and cuffs of brown beaver fur. This coat is lined with white quilted satin, and is designed for use over very thin frocks intended for party or dancing school wear.

SEVERAL PRETTY HATS—MOSTLY MUSHROOMS

The mushroom type, continues to be the favorite for children's headgear and long after this style has passed into oblivion—a merciful oblivion, one feels sure, as far as women are concerned—it will remain in favor for children. In fact, the mushroom belongs by right to the child, and has been borrowed by women because the closely framing brim is so vastly becoming and so kind to the features and complexion.

A mushroom for school wear, is pictured, and this charming hat is typically correct—according to the notions of fashionable mothers. A supple felt shape in light tan color is trimmed most simply with broad velvet ribbon in a true colonial blue, and the blue and tan combination is very soft and pleasing. Little Miss Ava Aster has been wearing a delectable mushroom, the material of which could not be guessed since a wonderful white ostrich feather wreath, entirely hid the crown and tumbled over the edge of the brim all around. Beneath the brim was a lining of pale pink satin, closely shirred and tucked up within this mushroom brim, just over each ear, was a soft pink rose.

With this delectable white and pink hat is worn a coat of white satin edged around with a puffing of the satin run cords.

play apron coming decently down over a short skirt of the same material, and a pair of full chambray knickers to match would be twice as attractive and not a whit more hampered in her movements.

Kate Greenway figures, teddy bears, flocks of snow-white geese and other pictures dear to the childish soul are now to be obtained on outing flannel for bath gowns and pajamas. Creeping rugs and crib blankets for the baby may also be made of this entertaining fabric. Many mothers put the little girl, as well as her small brother, into cosy pajamas through the winter months, and these bifurcated garments are much safer on cold nights over the active little limbs, which will kick off the coverlets, than the loose nightgown of even warm flannel. They are vastly prettier too, than the ugly cotton flannel nightdrawers baggily buttoned across the back, with which our own youth was infested.

The Kate Greenway printed flannels are so easy to make and so useful in protecting pretty frocks during such strenuous employments as making sand pies, weeding the garden or helping cook on baking day that every little girl ought to have half a dozen. Two of these gay kindergarten aprons are illustrated and the photographs show clearly the simple cut and substantial, practical nature of these pinafores.

H. Worswick, Sr., acting under contract with said city of Visalia, did construct and lay an asphalt pavement for said city of Visalia, in accordance with plans and specifications therefor, prepared by said W. H. That said pavement has been under water for several weeks at a time, during the hot spring and summer months, owing to overflow of Mill Creek, which flows through said city, said overflow an foundation occurring six times during said period, that said pavement during all of said time has been sprinkled daily with the city sprinkling carts, and hosed off at frequent intervals with the city fire hose under the same pressure used at fires.

TWO-YEAR TERM FOR THE COUNCIL

4. There should be authority given in the local improvement clauses of the act whereby we would be able, on the requisition of a majority of the property owners, to tear up a work of local improvement already laid, and replace it with another one, as will be necessary in Fort street on account of the widening of the street, or, it may be necessary on account of bad materials, etc., being renewed.

The equity of the situation could be met by compensating the people for the cost of the work rendered useless by a slight alteration of the wording of Section 251, or by making special provision for the same in the local improvement clauses, or by the assumption by the city of the unexpired payments from the property owners, and the assumption into the general city debt of the debentures still outstanding.

5. The city of Victoria needs power to conduct a surface drainage system through adjoining municipalities. It is an absolute necessity in certain portions of Victoria, in order to provide any drainage whatever, to go through the municipality of Oak Bay. It is also necessary in another part of Victoria, in order to provide any drainage whatever, to go through part of the Esquimalt district, and it seems to the city that it would be a wise thing to have the power, not as part of Victoria's special act, but as part of the general municipal system. Where the lie of the ground is such that no drainage can be had except through an adjoining municipality without a costly pumping out, then the municipality who needs drainage might very well be allowed to go through the adjoining municipality and spend its money there, and to assess the adjoining municipalities for benefits received. It is an absolute necessity in certain portions of Victoria, in order to provide any drainage whatever, to go through the municipality of Oak Bay. It is also necessary in another part of Victoria, in order to provide any drainage whatever, to go through part of the Esquimalt district, and it seems to the city that it would be a wise thing to have the power, not as part of Victoria's special act, but as part of the general municipal system. Where the lie of the ground is such that no drainage can be had except through an adjoining municipality without a costly pumping out, then the municipality who needs drainage might very well be allowed to go through the adjoining municipality and spend its money there, and to assess the adjoining municipalities for benefits received.

6. Section 251 of the Municipal Act, which is the compensation clause in expropriation matters, ought to have an amendment in order to provide that on the filing of a plan and detailed specifications and description of the property to be taken by the municipality for public purposes, and the depositing of the Expropriation By-law, the Registrar of Titles should mark on each parcel of land affected thereby the boundaries and reference to the description and plan. This would save the city a good many dollars in the course of a year through there being no necessity to register the conveyance from the owners. The by-law itself might operate as a conveyance to the city. On the filing of such a plan, description and by-law, the land should be vested in the city, so as to give an immediate right of entry to the city, which would prevent costly delays. The city would, of course, have to go on with the proceedings, but a time limit would have to be put upon them, but the compensation should stand in lieu of the land, and should give a right of action to the property owners. The city is big enough and strong enough financially so that the property owners need not worry about getting their money, but it is quite true that under the present law a recalcitrant property owner can hold us up for a couple of years if he wants to before we get possession of his property in order to go ahead with the necessary work. This right is possessed by the Dominion government, the provincial government, and all the railways incorporated either by the provincial or Dominion government, and it should apply to municipalities.

7. Registered Stock Debentures—The Municipal Clauses Act is hardly flexible enough in its financial provisions. It should be amended to make it clear that we have a right to issue registered stock debentures rather than debentures payable to bearer, in order that we may take advantage of the London market and the Trustee Investment Act of England.

8. In local improvement matters it often happens that the construction of the present act seems to be obscure and doubtful, and the effect of going ahead upon a wrong principle might be that work, perhaps costing half a million dollars, which is supposed to be paid for out of the local improvement would eventually, upon a suit, be found that it would have to be taken care of out of the general city revenue.

Then, again, there are other matters which come up from time to time in which, as well as in local improvement, it would be advisable to have power to go to a judge of the Supreme Court ex parte, giving such notices as the judge might consider proper to interested parties, and to have the question, as to whether or not the city has the right to proceed in the way it proposes to proceed, settled before any money is spent upon the proposal. It would save a lot of cost, much litigation, give a fair and constant interpretation of the Municipal Clauses Act and that with very little expense.

9. That there should be special power vested in the council to cancel the license for the sale of liquor from time to time or to change saloon licenses into hotel licenses, or to cancel saloon licenses, under such restrictions as the Union of British Columbia Municipalities may deem wise.

10. That there should be legislation looking toward continuity of office in the mayor and aldermen of cities. The problems in a large city growing very fast, are such that a continuity of policy is highly desirable. The council of any city have to meet constantly, shifting positions on the part of railways and other large corporations, and it is useful if we intend to succeed in dealing on anything like even terms with these corporations to have the best men at the head of affairs. It is one objection of such men as are needed that the office is not held for sufficiently long a time to en-

LEEMING BROS.

"The Girl the Man and the Game" the bright new musical fantasy in two acts, which comes to the Victoria Theatre to-night, is described as one of those effervescent entertainments in which farce and music is mixed in just the proper proportions. Billy (Single) Clifford, who is starred in the piece, is provided with a rollicking role, in which his well known comic methods are seen at their very best. The story has to do, in brief, with a young man, who has an eccentric uncle, always travelling about. The old man sees the picture of Dorothy, a young American girl, and he falls desperately in love with her. He sends it home to his nephew, and asks him to go out and court her for him. The young man falls in love with the girl on his own hook, and writes a letter telling his uncle that the girl is homely, drinks, smokes and has other peculiarities, and thus the old man's love story ends at once.

The uncle has always been very anxious that his nephew should marry and settle down, so he offers him $50,000 when he shall marry. Getting pressed for ready cash the young man writes his uncle that he is married and has a child, and the old man is very generous, and all goes well enough until the uncle writes that he is coming home. Then the young man gets his friend Mrs. Merry to pose as his wife, borrows a child, and the deception is kept up for some time, much to the amusement of every one, as many exasperatingly funny situations develop. Finally the tangle is solved, the young man wedd Dorothy and everyone is happy. The role gives Mr. Clifford ample opportunity for high class fun making, and he has numerous songs that are full of the catchiest melody, imaginable. Among the songs are "I Can't Miss That Ball Game," "I'll Be With You in Honeysuckle Time," "A Twig of Shamrock," "His Anybody Got a Kiss to Spare," "That Was All, Nothing More," "Italian Love," "How'd You Like to-Marry-Me," "Moon Talk," "Meet Me To-night in Dreamland," "That Dreamy Rag," and several others.

Mr. Clifford is supported by the following metropolitan cast: Adele Archer, Jack Trainer, Hazel Swanson, La-Journe, Bud Braman and Rose von Tilzer. The production is bright and new and costly, and the offering has given eminent satisfaction wherever it has been presented.

De Wolf Hopper.

De Wolf, Hopper and his band of merry-makers, headed by bewitching Louise Dresser, are to present the latest fad in musical entertainment, entitled "A Matinee Idol," at the Victoria Theatre on Thursday night. It is taken from the French of Mère, seventeenth-century, Americanized and abundantly supplied with new and crisp wit, by Messrs Armand and Barnard. The music, which is very tuneful, was composed by Silvio Hein, who has written all of the music for Miss Cahill's plays since she became a star.

The story of the play trips along as lightly as a maiden on her way to school, and unfolds a narrative that is not only interesting but amusing. It has to do with the misfortunes that befall an American actor on the coast of Normandy, and shows how cleverly a man with an active brain can hood-wink his fellow man by simply resorting to a little cheap chicanery and affected knowledge.

The actor finds himself in a strange land without funds and actually has the audacity to present himself at a select female academy to fill a very important chair in the institution. He is forestalled in his design by the timely appearance of an ex-professor, but is not outdone. An accident befalls a young man who is visiting at the seminary, and a physician is sent for. The local doctor has gone into the country and cannot be located. Nothing daunted, the actor professes himself to be a learned surgeon, and is shown into the sick room. He asks to be left alone with the patient and immediately learns that the young man is shamming in order that he may be allowed to remain a few days longer with his sweetheart.

From this point in the proceedings the actor takes his place among the really great, and revels in his good fortune until such time as he is pleased to acquaint his host with the true condition of affairs. But during this time complications arise fast and furious and tend to keep the audience at a high pitch of enthusiasm and expectation.

Nonsense in Music.

We all like a little fun now and then. In every walk of life it is enjoyed. Music can be used to express fun as well as the more serious emotions. Madame Liza Lehmann has combined the nonsense of the popular children's stories from "Alice in Wonderland" with the most exquisite music, the combination being both delightful and irresistibly funny. These songs of this composer, as well as some of her more serious ones, will be sung at the concert at the Victoria Theatre next Friday evening. The composer herself will play them, and a selected quartette of leading European singers will sing them. It will be an unusual musical treat.

Elyden Stock Company.

Commencing Saturday—afternoon matinee and running for three nights, Saturdays, Monday and Tuesday, the Murray L. Blyden company will return, presenting that fine English comedy, "Jane," a farce in three acts by Harry Nichols and W. Leacock. For a curtain raiser "The Littlest Girl" will be presented. This is a very clever sketch in one act dramatized by Robert Hilliard from Richard Harding Davis' story "Her First Appearance." Those who saw the Blyden company, as at present organized, in "Sweet Clover" and "Editha's Burg-

NANAIMO TRAMWAY BY-LAW.

Nanaimo, Nov. 8.—At last night's meeting of the city council the clerk read the following letter regarding the tramway by-law from G. H. Salmon, managing director of the Dominion Stock & Bond Corporation:

"I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th inst., and note that the council requires my company to pay all expenses in connection with the submission of the by-law, including solicitor's fees. I shall be glad if you will send me a statement as to what the cost is, and I will then consider whether I will or will not pay the total. As far as the solicitor's fees are concerned this is absolutely out of the question, as under no consideration will I pay the solicitor's fees.

"It seems to me that the council has not sufficient faith in the proposition even to get their solicitors to look into the by-law which our solicitors have prepared and for which we have paid."

—Yours faithfully,
"G. H. SALMON."
Mayor Planta remarked that Mr. Salmon was evidently under the impression the city had its own regular solicitor, which would entail no extra expense, but as it was the city would have to engage one. He believed if this was explained to Mr. Salmon he would not have the same objections. Ald. Shaw moved the communication be received and the clerk instructed to ascertain the expense necessary to the submitting of the by-law to the people. Ald. Busby seconded the motion, which was adopted.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE.

Nelson, Nov. 8.—An insatiable desire for joy riding resulted in the downfall of Robert Patton of Cranbrook, who was brought into the provincial jail by Provincial Constable Stinson of Cranbrook. Patton was sentenced by Police Magistrate Joseph Ryan to six months' imprisonment for the theft of an automobile from Peter Matcheson.

It was stated in court that the accused had burst open the door of the garage in which the automobile was kept and taken a number of friends on a midnight joy ride in the machine. The automobile was later found abandoned by the roadside a short distance from Cranbrook, and Patton was charged with having stolen it.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Nelson, Nov. 8.—Word of an incident that may have been another mysterious shooting or merely have been an accident, was brought to the city by a miner named Gwynne, who arrived in Nelson from Salmo. Mr. Gwynne was coming out of the Bayonne country some days ago, by way of the east fork of Sheep creek, coming down into the Sheep creek gold camp. He was on his journey when three bullets, in succession, whistled by him, one passing through his miner's hat. Whether some one was potting at him, or whether the bullets were from the rifle of a hunter, Mr. Gwynne does not know. J. A. Fraser, provincial constable at Ymir, went out to investigate, but found no clue to the marksmen.

LO, THE BOOR INDIAN!
To the Editor:—How thankful the people of Esquimalt will be for the Christmas bouquet to be presented by Sir Richard.
An Indian rancher with any other name would smell as sweet. There is no accounting for taste or smell. Some people do not like the smell of salmon, but evidently Esquimalt people do. They will have a hias time of it when Our Harry and Chief Cooper come on the stage to dance a war dance and Mr. Matson in the background flinging a bag of dollars. I think Sir Richard has been too liberal with money which does not belong to him and may have to reckon with the Socialists. But what does it matter so long as Esquimalt likes the bouquet? What of the Hudson's Bay Company agrees to a move of this kind, lowering the value of the adjoining property? JOHN MITCHELL.

KING'S DAUGHTERS
TO HOLD BAZAAR

Will Take Place at Duncan on December 3—Notes of District
(Special Correspondence.)
Duncan, Nov. 8.—At a meeting of the King's Daughters on Friday last arrangements were made for the annual bazaar which is to be held on December 3. In addition to the usual stalls for needlework, candy and tea—there will be one for the sale of calendars having local views and paintings. There will be a delicatessen stall—presided over by ladies well skilled in house cooking. In one of the side rooms there will be a loan exhibit of rare old lace and needlework and very interesting curios. A stall entitled "Most hated possessions" requires explanation, the idea being that those in charge will gather from their friends the one possession in their homes that they loathe the most or is most useless. These will be sold at bargain prices to people whose ideas may be different.
A unique "garden party" was given at Oak park on Thursday last. The guests who were all interested in garden-making exchanged plants or promises of plants for next season's growing.
Mr. and Mrs. Seymour recently left Duncan and will make their home on Rickland avenue, Victoria.
Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith arrived in Duncan on Saturday to spend a fortnight at Sahtlam.
Mrs. Granville Christmas gave a very pleasant tea in honor of Mrs. Stevenson and Miss Brown on Friday last.
During the week a small book has appeared entitled "Mary, the Mother of God," by Mrs. Gaynor Elkington. It is the story simply told of the life of the Christ child in poetic form. Mrs. Elkington is very kindly giving the entire proceeds of the sale of the first 50 copies to the new home hospital of Duncan.
Miss Bagley, who has been visiting "The Cliffs" for a few days, left yesterday.
Dr. A. G. Price recently from England has passed the British Columbia requirements and will practice in South Cowichan.
Dr. Watson Dykes, who with Mrs. Dykes has been in England for some months taking up post-graduate work, has recently passed his examinations in Edinburgh. Dr. and Mrs. Dykes are expected in Duncan about the middle of the week.
Mrs. and Miss Maclean, who have been visiting Mr. Alex. and Dr. C. G. Maclean for some months will spend a week in Victoria, after which they will return to the west coast.
Miss Josephine Holmes left a few days ago to spend the winter with friends in Honolulu.
Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mackay are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Alexander of Duncan. Mrs. Mackay will remain a week or two.
NEITHER BASTION NOR VIEW.

To the Editor:—Having read with great interest Mr. Edgar Fawcett's letter re the query as to the permanent term for the street now named as View and Bastion, may I make a suggestion that in the event of a re-naming that the thoroughfare be known as Fawcett street? Many old residents are perpetuated in street names, and I feel sure, after the indefatigable efforts put forward by Mr. Fawcett in all issues connected with archaic research in Victoria and its immediate environs, that it would be a fitting tribute on the part of the city fathers to perpetuate the name of such a zealous citizen.
WELL WISHER
Victoria, B. C., Nov. 8th, 1910.

ASKED TO RESIGN.
To the Editor:—A police constable at Stewart has been supplementing his pay by arranging a regular schedule of fees payable to himself by gamblers, messenger boys and unfortunate outcasts from society, for his silence and their protection against the law, and contrary to the oath he swore when joining the force. Instead of being kicked out of the service, as was politely asked by the Attorney-General "to resign," contrary to the usages of any disciplined body of men I have ever heard of in the United Kingdom.
I believe and hope there is not another force would so degrade itself in dealing with such a disreputable character and his accomplices, if any.

CITIZENS DISCUSS FIRE PROTECTION
Committee at Hedley Will Prepare Plans for Organization of Brigade
Hedley, Nov. 8.—During the past week the town has had three sharp warnings to get ready for a visitation by fire. The burning of the Sam Lee Lingerie in Chinatown was serious enough in itself and it was by the greatest good fortune that the wind was as favorable as it was or a considerable portion of the town would have gone. Next Loomer's house caught fire and only prompt action saved it from destruction.
The next was when the roof of the annex to the Hotel Hedley, took fire in close proximity to the chimney. In this case the chemical fire extinguisher secured a point.
Next day word was passed around for a meeting of property-holders and others interested in the welfare of the town, and there was a fair turnout at a public meeting at which a committee consisting of the Messrs. F. H. French, Schubert and Rotherham were appointed to communicate with fire departments in other places to ascertain what would be required in the way of equipment and cost of same, and report at a meeting to be called later.
Another committee to consider and prepare plans for organization of a fire brigade was appointed, the members being W. J. Forbes, E. D. Boeing, J. Fraser and G. McEACHERN.
When the cost of equipment is laid before another meeting they will be able to tell how much will be required and take steps to provide funds for purchase of same.

NEW PUBLICITY PLAN ADOPTED
Meeting at Nelson Decides to Inaugurate Active Campaign
Nelson, Nov. 8.—Five thousand dollars is to be raised by business men of Nelson and in the city at large for the carrying on of publicity work. This is to be supplemented by the real estate men of the city and the West Kootenay in general who will maintain an agency in London at an estimated expenditure of not less than $5,000 for the purpose of carrying on a campaign of personal work with prospective settlers and other investors. In addition other boards of trade and publicity associations are at work at other points in the district from Nakusp to Creston and will probably spend an aggregate amount of $5,000. Altogether about $15,000 will probably be spent this year in furthering the development of the districts, including the maintenance of the agency in England. Corresponding results in the progress of the country may confidently be expected.
A definite and comprehensive publicity scheme was adopted at the large and representative meeting of citizens in the board of trade rooms and steps were taken to enter immediately on the work of raising the funds required. The scheme contemplates two separate organizations, the real estate men undertaking to operate a selling agency in the Old Country and maintain a commissioner there, on the condition that the citizens of Nelson generally raise a fund of $5,000, to be administered by the board of trade partly in maintaining a publicity office here and partly in advertising in the Old Country. A committee was appointed to enter immediately on the work of canvassing. Still a third organization was forecasted and notice was given that an early meeting a proposal will be offered for a West Kootenay publicity league, through the medium of which other towns and districts in this territory may co-operate by issuing local literature, and in other ways.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S POLICE FORCE
Little Active Work Required as Islanders Are Peaceable People
The physical executive of constituted authority in Newfoundland is an organization unique in many respects, says the special correspondent of the Toronto Globe.
It was established by the colony after the withdrawal of the British troops, and has since continued the island's defence against foes without and disturbers within. Prepared for any emergency, from a clash of Imperial arms in the world's battlefields to a peaceful "frank" propped against a blank wall in St. John's, the force continues its steady response to all the colony's needs.
The form of organization is military rather than civilian, while the duties consist largely of an exceptionally peaceful police service, the composition and general usefulness being essentially Newfoundlandic. The inspector-general, Superintendent and sub-inspector at Port Townsend, the central station of St. John's, control a city force of forty-four men and an outside force that brings the total strength to over one hundred. This includes two district inspectors, six head constables, eight sergeants, and eight acting sergeants. The city's fire department is a detachment of the constabulary, augmented by a volunteer or "reserve" force. Since the calamitous experience of the great fire this organization has been brought to a high state of efficiency, both in training and equipment.
The recruit is stationed in St. John's, where he receives semi-military training. If a Newfoundlandian from an outpost, he requires no instruction in the use of the Martini-Henry rifle, but which no one else ever sees. It is a characteristic of the Newfoundlanders that he is born a mechanic of many trades, and requires but little aid or teaching, and the same faculties that make him a ship carpenter, a house carpenter, a sail-maker, rigger, sailor, navigator, cooper and fisherman also come to his aid when a new weapon is put into his hands. After about three years of clubless police duty in the capital he is regarded as sufficiently grounded in the details of work of government to accept the responsibilities of outpost service. There, with the magistrate, the customs collector, the telegraph operator and postmaster he completes the local contingent of constituted authority. He is in constant touch with the official machinery of the organization, and is frequently moved from one district to another. At the age of sixty-five years or about thirty years of service he may retire on a pension. The duties of an island constable are nominal, for on an island constable are nominal with common people are well-blasted with common sense and their time is largely taken up in attending to the affairs of the town. The Twelfth of July, which is their only source of danger, comes round when they are out on the water too busy lifting traps, splitting and salting to work up much sectarian animosity. They hold their celebrations after the rush of the fishing season is over, but in the fall a procession seems to lack the real presence. There has not been a fatality or even a case of serious injury over the battle of the Boyne for years.
Not only the peaceful, sober sense of the people of Newfoundland but their natural and spontaneous politeness tends to make the life of the constable quiet and uneventful. Neither his own neat uniform or the official authority vested in him can make him aggressive or arrogant, for he partakes of the leading characteristic of the island. This is so marked that it wins approving comment from every visitor. If a man tripped by a valise in the aisle apologizes to the owner it is safe to conclude that he is of the island, but if he makes some decautery remarks it shows that he is from further west. This universal politeness may be attributed in part to association with and descent from the next island in the claim of British possessions. Politeness is inseparable from the soft, round Irish accent that declares attention to every remark. The desire to please overflows.

MAY GRANT'S BONUS.

Melbourne, Nov. 9.—The kerosene industry in Australia may be taken under the wing of the government, if the legislation at present before the federal parliament is passed. It is proposed to give a bonus of £18,000 sterling yearly for all kerosene produced in Australia. There are large deposits of shale in many parts of the island continent, but in particular in New South Wales. English capital is invested in this industry, and in the course of time it is hoped to supply the whole of Australia from its own wells.

DIE IN AUSTRALIA WILDS.

Melbourne, Nov. 9.—A pathetic tragedy has occurred in the northern territory. Two men who had journeyed into the wilds, were missed and search was made for them. Their bones, stripped of flesh, were all that was found. In a matchbox near one of the bodies was a scrap of paper bearing the message, "Will return soon." Apparently one of the men had gone for water, had taken a fit and both of them perished. Their bodies had been eaten by dogs.

FAVOR HIGHWAY TO MOUNT DOUGLAS

Leading Citizens Forward a Petition to the City Council

The city council has been presented with a petition signed by a large number of leading citizens, urging that the highway proposed to be constructed at Cedar Hill, to enable vehicular traffic to reach the summit of the peak at the public park which bears the name of Mount Douglas, may be of the best character. They promise to support the board in any expenditure to this end up to $15,000. This petition reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned Victoria rate-payers, notice with approval the movement on the part of the city council to build a road up Cedar Hill, thereby making this piece of city property an attraction and asset to the city of Victoria.
"We respectfully urge that the said road shall go right to the top of the hill, and that it shall be wide and of a good surface and first class in every respect, if possible winding around the hill so that the views on all sides may be successively seen during the ascent. We are further of the opinion that no grade should exceed four per cent, and that the road should be free from sharp curves and particularly wide at curves, so as this scenic drive would be available to all classes of vehicles, including trolley-buses and hacks.
"For the building of this road from the public highway to the top of the hill, conditional on its construction in a manner not less efficient than above indicated, we will support the council. In any expenditure they may see fit to make not exceeding a total of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000)."

COMPLAINTS MADE OF DELAYED MAILS

Board of Trade Will Take the Matter Up—Fruit Inspection

Among the matters discussed at the meeting of the council of the board of trade yesterday was the inconvenience and serious loss entailed through having to send all imported fruit trees and horticultural plants to Vancouver for inspection. This has been the custom for many years, but now that the fruit-growers here are importing on a more extensive scale they do not see why such facilities for inspection could not be provided in this city.

This business was initiated by the Victoria Fruit Growers' association, who are seeking the support of the council. The members of the latter, while unanimous in their opinion that the fruit imported into this city should be inspected here, did not take any definite steps, but were willing to lend their assistance. In view of the regular monthly meeting of the board being held on Thursday it was thought advisable that anything done should be by the whole board. It is expected that the fruit-growers and horticulturists of Victoria and its surroundings will be in attendance on Thursday afternoon to present their grievances.

Another matter placed on the agenda for consideration at the monthly meeting was that of reciprocity with the United States. In view of the negotiations now going on at Ottawa between Canada and the United States the board will consider what line of business will be affected locally by this change.

The board will also discuss on Thursday the movement in the north-west cities of the United States to cooperate with each other. The feeling there is that much injury is being done through inter-city jealousies. The working of the movement will be explained and the board will decide what steps it will take in the matter.

Some severe strictures were made at yesterday's meeting in regard to the sorting and delivery of mails. Specific charges were also made that the steamer Charmer arrived from Vancouver Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock and that the mails had not been distributed until 9 o'clock. Inquiries will be made as to the delays and strong efforts made to secure a better service. Complaints have been made by box-holders and also by those on the town delivery circuits that the mails are always late in being sorted and delivered.

At the invitation of the city council, H. G. Wilson, president of the board, was requested to attend a joint meeting of the committee organized by the corporation of Victoria to consider the construction of a new bridge across the inner harbor.

The meeting was largely attended and considerable routine business was transacted.
